BIG FOUR CASE ENDED, COOKE IS ACQUITTED

(By Associated Press.)

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 17—Edward Street Cooke was today declared not guilty of embezzling $24,000 from the Big Four railroad by the jury after two hours' deliberation.

The jury was charged shortly after court convened this morning. Judge Hunt's instructions were brief. He first told the jury that it was the sole judge in the case to decide whether or not Chas. L. Warriner or Mrs. Jeanette Stewart Ford was the accomplice of Cooke, and if the latter is guilty the state must establish the following facts:

First: The state must prove whether Cooke was an agent or employe of the Big Four railroad on September 11, 1901.

Second: Did he then have in his possession $24,000 of the road's money, or any part of that amount?

Third: Was the money wrongly taken and converted to his own use.

Fourth: If the jury finds that an amount less than stated had been stolen by Cooke, the jury should state the amount stolen.

Judge Hunt told the jury that Cooke was on trial for embezzlement only and not for the commission of any other crime against state or moral law. He also stated that the jury should remember that Mrs. Ford and Warriner had, by their testimony, made themselves equally guilty with Cooke.

Thirty minutes after the jury retired they requested Judge Hunt to read his charge to them again. Hunt called in the attorneys and re-read his charge and the jurors seemed greatly interested. They retired again for further deliberation and finally declared Cooke not guilty of the charge against him.

Cooke received the verdict rather impassively but his wife showed her extreme relief and shook hands with each of the jurors. Cooke later shook hands with his attorneys and reminded them that he had predicted that he would not be around very long after the jury went out.

OBJECTS TO EXHUMING OF BODY

(By United Press.)

Caldwell, O., June 17- B. F. Atkinson, father of Mrs. Jessie Way Henkle, under arrest at Delaware, Ohio, on a charge of poisoning her step-daughter, Merle Henkle, has retained lawyers here and will take legal measures to prevent the exhuming of the body of Edgar Way, first husband of Mrs. Henkel.

Way died in 1909 supposedly of lead poisoning. County Detective Matthews is hourly expected here to exhume the body for examination to ascertain whether or not arsenic was in the stomach of Way.

Atkinson says that his objections to exhuming the body lay in the fact that he is certain that Way died of lead poisoning and also because of the fact that his wife's body is buried in the same lot with Way and he does not want it disturbed.

New Way to Stop A Runaway Horse

(By Associated Press.)

Yonkers, N. Y., June 17—Prof. Charles Edgar Roake, of Syracuse University turned his knowledge of chemistry to practical account in unusual fashion here last night. He was walking on Jerome Boulevard when he saw a runaway horse approaching. Two screaming children were in peril in the cart which the horse dragged along. The professor happened to have in his pocket a package of an ammonia compound with which he had been experimenting. He threw a handful in the horse's eyes as it came opposite him and the blinded animal stopped as if shot. Then while a bystander held the horse, he stepped to a hydrant and prepared a solution of other chemical. With this he washed the ammonia from the horse's eyes in time to save its sight.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, June 17—Eight year old Ethel Jackson wanted water a few days ago to make mud pies, but fearing to ask her mother for it she stole into her father's bedroom and took his bottle of gin from the bureau. When the child's cooking was done it occurred to her that her father might miss the liquid so she refilled the bottle with some other colorless liquid which she found in the medicine closet. The substitute proved to be sulphuric acid. The father, Edward Jackson, is dying at the Lincoln hospital today from a draught of what he supposed to be gin.

BRAKEMAN HAS MONEY SHOWER

(By Associated Press.)

Melrose, Mass., June 17- James Walsh, a Boston & Maine railroad gate tender had the surprise of his life last night when, just as a Boston express was passing he was showered with money. Bills and coins of all denominations fell about him and followed in the wake of the train. There was so much of it that Walsh called for help and two stationmen went to his assistance. They gathered up $125 in all.

The money was placed in the station safe and early today the owner came and claimed it. He explained that he had been seized with an attack of car sickness and had put his head out of the window for air when his wallet, containing $125 fell from his pocket. CAN'T STOP JAPANESE

(By United Press.)

Washington, D. C., June 17—Government officials today asserted that it is impossible for the United States to stop Japan's policy of extension in the Philippines and South America. In the Philippines the government is more helpless than anywhere else, as far as Jap immigration is concerned, as under the present laws the Japs are allowed absolutely free entry there, subject only to sanitary and pauper regulations.

A Southern Pacific Train Held Up And Robbed Last Night

(By Associated Press.)

Drain, Oregon, June 17—The south-bound Shasta Limited on the Southern Pacific, which left Portland at 6 o'clock last night, was held up and the mail car robbed by two highwaymen about midnight between Drain and Yoncalla. The robbers entered the mail car, held up the clerks and looted the car. They stopped the train at Yoncalla and made their escape.

Posses were searching for them west of Yoncalla this morning but up to a late hour they were still at large. Although the two robbers brandished their revolvers not a shot was fired. The mail clerks found themselves helpless before the weapons of the highwaymen. One robber held them covered while the other ripped open the mail sacks and ransacked their contents. It is not known how much booty the desperadoes secured.

As the train neared Yoncalla, one of the highwaymen pulled the emergency signal and the train was stopped. The robbers then leaped from the mail car and disappeared down the village streets.

The conductor is positive that the outlaws boarded the train here but whether they crawled onto the roof or swung onto the platform he does not know.

The first intimation the mail clerks had of the attack was when the door of the car swung suddenly open and they found themselves faced by the highwaymen. None attempted resistance as the intruders proceeded to the looting of the sacks.

The conductor and engineer of the train had no inkling of any trouble until the signal to stop at Yoncalla was sounded and the mail clerks raised the alarm

Officers here and Sheriff George K. Quine at Roseburg were notified and posses were immediately started in pursuit of the robbers.

The mail car was the only one disturbed by the robbers. The passengers and trainmen were not molested. Neither robber wore a mask.

Mail Matter Not Heavy.

Portland, Oregon, June 17—The Shasta Limited, which was held up near Drain, carried no more than the ordinary amount of mail matter, according to W. A. Graves, Assistant Chief Mail Clerk here. There was no large sum of money of which the highwaymen might have heard.

La Follette Is Now After the Presidency

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 17—For the first time, with the consent of Robert M. La Follette, the statement was made today that the Wisconsin senator is a candidate for the presidency. His supporters claim they are already sure of one-third of the delegates in the Republican convention.

No formal statement is to be made until the campaign is more completely organized, and then on a progressive platform and in the light of his achievements, will the appeal be made to the people.

The La Follette supporters assert that Taft's support will come mainly from Southern office holders and from the rock-ribbed Republican states.

Wisconsin, Kansas, California, Washington and Oregon states are said to be in the La Follette column.

PAIN MAY MAKE AN OPERATION NECESSARY

Will Clark, who resides at 25 West Front street, and an employe in the Drew shoe factory on Tenth street, is suffering agonies with what is known as neuritis, which is caused from nervousness and poor circulation.

Eight weeks ago Mr. Clark began suffering with a pain in the little toe of the right foot. It gradually became worse until all of the toes were infected and his suffering was most intense.

He went to Cincinnati where he entered the city hospital and remained one week. From there he was taken to another hospital, where he remained three weeks, and it was finally decided that the toes must be amputated to save him.

Mr. Clark said that if the foot or toes had to be taken off, he wanted it done in Portsmouth, and he returned home Thursday night.

Saturday he became much worse and the pain threw him into convulsions. Two men could not hold him, and finally a strong opiate was given to relieve his agony.

It may not be necessary to amputate the foot or toes if Mr. Clark is able to bear the pain for a few days longer.

EXPLANATION IS MADE ABOUT CLASS HONORS

Lest there should be some misunderstanding in regard to the scholarship of the graduates of St. Mary's school, the following explanation is offered. Because none of them received a diploma with "highest distinction," or with "distinction," does not signify that none were deserving of same. On the contrary, all have worked hard and faithfully; and, although some far outdid the others in the degree of excellence attained in their work, the others did not deserve less credit because of their diligence and perseverence. For this reason the faculty of the school decided not to make any distinction when conferring the diplomas, for they considered that commencement is no time to make a pupil feel that someone else has surpassed him. If all had equal talents and equal opportunities for improving them, it would be fair to discriminate, but we all know that this is not the case.

Mrs. Hurd believes her heart was the cause of the sudden attack

Asks Divorce On Cross Petition

An answer and cross petition was filed late Saturday by Attorneys S. L. Patterson and George M. Osborn, on behalf of the defendant, in the suit for alimony of Jessie Steinhauer vs. William F. Steinhauer.

The defendant in his answer makes some sensational allegations. He denies he has deserted plaintiff and their children.

In his cross petition Steinhauer charges that his wife had been guilty of misconduct with William E. Tripp, at plaintiff's residence in Louisa, Ky., also in Portsmouth, in 1907, and at various other places.

Steinhauer further alleges that he resided at Wheelersburg with the plaintiff and their children from May to November, 1910, and that during said period he was engaged in the timber business in Martin county, Ky., and was unable by reason of his employment and business obligations to be at his home except occasionally. At divers and sundry times in said period, in his absence, he says that plaintiff permitted William E. Tripp to visit her home and furnish her with intoxicating liquors which plaintiff drank in the presence of the children.

With the filing of the petition, Steinhauer says he took his children from the custody of the plaintiff and has at all times provided them with suitable temporary homes with his relatives in Pike county.

Defendant prays that plaintiff's petition be dismissed; that he be divorced, and decreed to have the custody of the children.

Portsmouth Man Tells Of Riots In A Strike

John Schmitt, vice president of the Boiler Makers & Helpers, arrived in Portsmouth, Friday night for a two days' stay with his family after a most strenuous experience at Altoona, Pa., where he has been directing a strike of the employes of the Pennsylvania railway shops.

Mr. Schmitt had the experience of being arrested for the exercise of free speech. He was talking to a large crowd of strikers on a bridge when officers swooped down upon him and bore him off to the mayor's office.

Mr. Schmitt stated that no [illegible] had the officers hove in [illegible] than a regular riot was pre[illegible]d with strikers on the one side and strike-breakers and officials on the other.

During the riot, five of the strikers were knocked off the bridge, falling a distance of thirty feet. Two of them were fatally injured and are now in the hospital where all hope for their recovery has been abandoned.

Mr. Schmitt was himself painfully injured about the shoulders, for he entered into the fray with all sails set and prevented the officers from pitching two men off the bridge, he says. He was also struck with flying bricks and waving clubs and says that all in all it was the most strenuous experience of his eventful life.

When taken before the mayor, the officers threatened to throw him in jail, but the president of the labor union came and put up a cash bond for his appearance whenever his trial was called.

The railroad company had secured an injunction preventing any of the labor leaders from making public speeches, and Mr. Schmitt knew when he agreed to address the assembly of laborers he would likely be placed under arrest. He states, however, that the strikers fought the injunction and eventually beat it. Mr. Schmitt will return to Altoona on Monday where he will take up the strikers cause. He is of the opinion that they will eventually win.

The strike was called when the railway company dismissed from its service several men who had been employed by them for thirty years and who were eligible to be placed on the pension rolls, Mr. Schmitt says.

Fifteen young men and women of New Boston, received their diplomas of graduation from the public schools of that village Friday evening, at the Millbrook Casino, each pupil contributing to the program. The stage was a perfect bower of roses, daisies and palms, and was hung with American flags. The class motto, "Improve the present," occupied a prominent place, while the class colors were draped in every available place. Every number on the program was well rendered, the class prophecy being particularly amusing. As each pupil delivered his or her recitation they were presented with a lovely bouquet of asparagus fern and carnations by two sweet tots, who occupied prominent places on the stage. Dr. Charles S. Robertson, of this city, gave a splendid talk to the fathers and mothers, as well as the class, dwelling on the advantages of an education, and also on the fact that nothing is worth having unless procured at the top of the hill, "Difficulty." Good Showing Made In Golf Tournament

The Portsmouth Golf club's team, everything considered, made a most creditable showing in the Tom Morris Memorial trophy match played Friday.

The team made 29 down against bogy or par which is the best score yet made here in the Morris event and then too the team played in a driving rain storm.

Sidney Davidson did the most brilliant playing, he beating par 4 up on 18 holes.

The individual scores of the players comprising the team were as follows: Davidson 4 up; L. C. Turley and Salem Shaw 2 down each; Charles Mitchell 4 down; Arthur H. Bannon, 6 down; Earl Pursell, 8 down; James W. Bannon, Jr., 9 down; W. B. Anderson 2 down.

An official report of the results here was forwarded Friday night to the officials of the Western Golf Association. The team making the best score is entitled to the custody of the Morris trophy for a year. Pittsburg won the trophy last year.

Ever notice how some folks skrimp? Yet they go on using strong, greasy, yellow soap full of rosin and lye. They waste more than they can save. Hewitt's Easy Task Laundry Soap is a real saving. Socialist Column

ROBERT DODGE.

The superintendent of the Richmond, Va., schools is quoted as having said in a public address delivered recently that, "No man can be a good citizen in these days who does no reading and thinking along the lines of public interests." All Socialists agree with the above sentiment and they further believe that it applies to women as well as men, and for this reason they everywhere admit women into all the organizations of the movement.

They believe that by means of lectures, talks and readings the indifferent and the inattentive must be aroused to an interest in the common good, without which progress and reform everywhere and in every line would suffer.

This world can no more be made a fit home for mankind without the cooperation of the feminine half, than can the home of the individual be an ideal place to rear children without the presence and assistance of a beloved and honored wife.

The old idea that would confine women's activities to the four walls of her dwelling, with perhaps a few narrow paths leading therefrom to church and the homes of a few relatives and neighbors, is fast being discarded and the Socialist party everywhere is found in the vanguard of this and every movement that has for its purpose the enlargement of the sphere of woman's activities. Socialists believe that the ideal of motherhood is the most powerful and is more generally perceived than any other ideal in the world, hence their desire to enlist that ideal in favor of their movement.

The training and education of children is becoming more a public function with each passing year, hence the Socialists contend that the mothers must be aroused to take more interest in public affairs. To be satisfied with what you already know is the very best receipt for ignorance. Statistics of the Health Department of New York City show that over 12,000 babies under two years of age died there last year. The aim of Socialists is to make conditions on earth such that it will be a fit place for children to be born.

It is recorded of a certain great teacher that on one occasion. He used these words: "Inasmuch as ye have done it not to the least of these ye have done it not to me."

Every organization to have any just and sane reason for its existence must stand for a principle of some sort to justify its continued existence. Socialists believe their party stands for principles that will benefit all classes and conditions of mankind when applied to present day problems in the economic field and that by freeing mankind from economic slavery, will give them time and opportunity to develop the moral and religious side of life and make this earth a place where men can dwell in peace with each other and co-operate for their mutual good, instead of as at present, having to compete with each other for jobs and trade and where he that [illegible] is most [illegible] up on the backs of his fellows. Socialism will make co-operation possible.

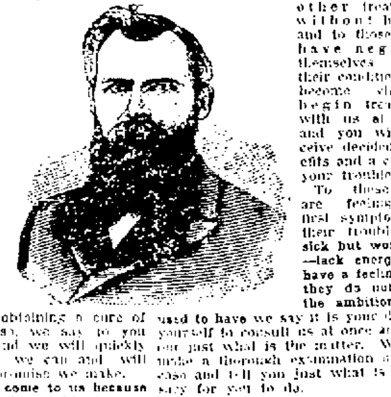
The Methods used by us are the latest and only such as have been approved by the leading Specialists of the World.

When you place your case in our hands you do so with the assurance that no matter how long you have been treated without success you will receive what you desire. A cure of your trouble, if your case is curable.

Many have spent hundreds of dollars without receiving a cure—have thrown away their money and received nothing in return, but after treating with us a short time their improvement has been so marked and they have been returned to "perfect health" so quickly that they have expressed the greatest regret over the fact that they did not obtain our services at the start.



Has this been your case? Have you spent your money in a fruitless effort to be cured without obtaining any benefit? Have you taken treatment so long that you have despaired of ever obtaining a cure of your trouble? If so, we say to you Call and See us and we will quickly convince you that we can and will make good every promise we make.

Don't hesitate to come to us because you feel you will be unable to pay. We are more interested in seeing that you are completely relieved of your trouble than in what you pay or how you pay us. You will find that our fee will be no more than you can conveniently pay and we are willing for you to pay it in any way that will suit your circumstances.

Our specialty is treatment of the Head, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, [illegible] or Sexual Troubles and women and men with nervous prostration, who are [illegible] and despondent [illegible] have [illegible]: Nervousness, Lost Vitality, no matter what the cause, Varicose Enlargement, Blood Poison, Piles, Fistula and all lingering Chronic Diseases—the success we have and the large number of patients we are dismissing happy in the thought that at last they have gotten rid of their troubles, assures you a cure where others have failed to even benefit you.

We will cure you quicker than other specialists for the reason that with our immense practice we are able to do the right thing at the right moment in the right way in order to bring about the quickest scientific results.

We say to those who have taken other treatment without benefit and to those who have neglected themselves until their condition has become chronic, begin treatment with us at once, and you will receive decided benefits and a cure of your trouble.

To those who are feeling the first symptoms of their trouble -Not sick but worn out —lack energy and have a feeling that they do not have the ambition they used to have we say it is your duty to yourself to consult us at once and find out just what is the matter. We will make a thorough examination of your case and tell you just what is necessary for you to do.

Don't waste time and money in experimenting—you can't afford to treat with anyone but the best for if you do you will pay out more money in the end without receiving anything in return than it would have cost you to get the best treatment in the beginning. Nor can you afford to neglect yourself and let your trouble run along without attention for just as sure as you do you will find that your trouble will become chronic and will require much more time to get rid of it. "Take time by the forelock" and be cured at once. You don't want to burden your whole life by neglecting yourself now. Call and find out just where and how you stand.

Superior Treatment will cure you, Inferior won't. Which do you want!

Council Planning For Walks; Annexation Up

City council at its caucus meeting Friday night decided to get ready for the proposed new system of uniform sidewalks and will start with the business district.

A resolution will be introduced Wednesday night declaring it necessary to lay new cement walks and property owners must construct same within sixty days or the city will do so and assess the costs against the properties.

Mayor Searey conferred with council and suggested that Chillicothe street have uniform walks from Second to Ninth, Gallia street from Chillicothe to Offnere, Gay street from Gallia to Sixth, Sixth street from Gay to Court so as to give a fine paproach to the court house. All these will be embraced in the first resolution. Several councilmen also brought in separate cases that needed urgent attention which will be included.

The plan to improve the alleys of the city led to quite a discussion. Some favored taxing vehicles to provide the means for paving these while others seemed strongly against this and advocated assessing abutting properties. Some decision is expected at the regular meeting and it is likely a start will be made in the business district.

The engineer was directed to bring in an estimate of the cost of replacing curb and gutter on the south side of Second street from Market to Massie.

A petition from Nave Bros. to vacate all alleys in the triangle square between Thirteenth and Fourteenth from Gay to Chillicothe was referred to the street committee. The firm now owns all property in the square and expects to enclose it.

A petition from property owners asking for a new storm sewer on the south side of Gallia from Broadway to the railroads was referred to the same committee.

Solicitor J. S. Thomas reported he would present the new annexation ordinance Wednesday night. This will be the final move, the 60 day limit expiring June 19. City Engineer J. I. Hudson has completed a new plat of the city.

Legislation was ordered brought in for four new sanitary sewers: Eighth and John, petitioned for by George Brandau and others, and to cost $870, another at the rear of The Club $318. One at the rear of the new Coles Peebles home $499, one between Tenth and Eleventh from Lincoln to Offnere $777.50. Several others were held up because there was not a sufficient number of petitioners to insure part of the cost. These were the proposed sewer east of Court between Eighth and Ninth, one at the rear of Saunders & Watrous' new building and one east of Brown between Sixth and Seventh.

The plan to appoint a new city sealer and provide the same with all necessary equipment was dropped because of the new law placing that office under the jurisdiction of the county commissioners.

Service Director Jones reported the Selby Shoe company was only too glad to plank crossings, etc., as demanded by nearby residents and the ordinance granting the firm the right to run a switch to its new warehouse on Tenth street will be passed Wednesday night.

Council decided to stand pat on opposing all moves directed towards reducing the width of streets to be improved. This in anticipation of petitions to narrow the width of Franklin avenue and Glover street from 36 to 30 feet.

Council expressed itself favorable to granting the Postal Telegraph Company a franchise and an ordinance to this effect will likely be passed.

Allegations Are Denied

The defendant in his answer filed Saturday through his attorney, J. R. Gilland, in the case of George W. Thompson vs. [illegible] Brock, foreclosure of mechanic's lien, denies each and every allegation therein contained.

Defendant in her answer says that on account of the plaintiff failing to complete contract of repairing house of defendant, prays that the mechanic's lien be cancelled. The contract was for $250.

NEWARK WINS THE FIRST GAME

When the first game of Saturday's doubleheader between Newark and Portsmouth was called at 2 o'clock there were fully 1000 people in the grand stand and bleachers. The playing field was in excellent shape.

The batteries were Moore and Weinberg and Kline and Prysock. Jones was missing in right and Beers filled his place and cavorted like a two year-old in the sun garden. Umpire Truby on the job and the game started off briskly.

First Inning.

Moore had lots of smoke and Baggan whiffed for a starter. Newnham and Plummer were neatly thrown out by Childs.

Hammond walked and a moment later was nipped off first. Childs walked and was forced by Beers, who stole second. Beers scored on Weinberg's hit to left. Tennant was thrown out by Prysock.

Second Inning.

Geyer walked and was sacrificed to second on Blue's pretty bunt. He took third on a passed ball only to die there as Rudolph and Munn fanned. Moore being in fine form.

Conwell grounded out. Edwards doubled to right. Hornung fanned and Moore went out on a fly to center.

Third Inning.

Prysock was pinked in the slats and he cleanly pilfered second. Kline struck out. Baggan lofted to Hammond. Newnham walked. Plummer forced Newnham at second.

Hammond and Childs fouled to Blue. Beers grounded out.

Fourth Inning.

Geyer skid to Beers. Blue fanned. Rudolph flied to Beers, a fine catch.

Weiny flied to Prysock. Conwell went out on a fly to center. Tenant singled and stole second. Edward Texas leagued back of first but Umpire Truby called it a foul and everybody howled. It was fair a foot and Tennant scored. Edwards then flied to center.

Fifth Inning.

Munn singled to left, the first hit off Moore. Prysock sacrificed. Kline fanned and Baggan grounded out.

Hornung popped to Prysock. Moore walked. Hammond hit to short and Moore was safe at second on Newnham's error. Childs walked, filling the bases with one man down. Beers popped to Blue and Weiny beat the June atmosphere.

Sixth Inning.

Newnham was easy for Moore and Edwards. Conwell threw out Plummer and Geyer walked. Blue fouled to Conwell.

Kline nailed Tennant at first on his easy roller. Conwell grounded out and Edwards flied to center.

Seventh Inning.

Rudolph doubled to right. Mgr. Childs threw out Munn. Prysock singled and stole second. Kline drew a pass. On Baggan's double to center Rudolph and Prysock scored. Newnham grounded out and Plummer was thrown out by Moore.

Two singles and a pass failed to score a run for the Champs. Hornung was thrown out on his hit to third. Moore walked. Hammond singled to left. Childs flied to center. On Beers' clean wallop to right Moore was caught at the plate. Great gobs of gloom in the stand.

Eighth Inning.

Geyer grounded out and Blue popped to Conwell. Rudolph singled to left. Munn soared to center.

Weiny flied to Newnham. Tennant and Conwell flied to center.

Ninth Inning.

Prysock doubled to left. Kline singled to Moore. Baggan was hit. Newnham was thrown out at first, Prysock scoring. Hornung kicked Plummer's easy tap into the next county and Kline and Baggan scored. Geyer was hit by a pitched ball, but was caught napping. Blue walked. Rudolph flied out.

Portsmouth succumbed easily in the ninth. Edwards struck out. Hornung flied to left and Moore breezed.

DEFENDANT WINS OUT

Judge Blair on Saturday decided in favor of the defendant in the action of Eliza Gordley vs. Max Jacobs for damages. The case came to the common pleas court on appeal by defendant from Squire Byron's court.

A motion for a new trial made by the plaintiff was promptly overruled by the court. Oscar W. Newman was the winning attorney.

SOCIAL NEWS

Portsmouth, which already has a long list of social affairs to its credit for the month of June, added yet another beautiful party today, when Miss Katherine Moeller entertained at cards for the pleasure of Miss Bess Dachler, who is being much feted, in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. Oscar Donaldson. Beautiful pink roses, ferns and palms made attractive the rooms where the guests indulged in Five Hundred. During the afternoon delicious punch was served by Misses Beatrice Nave and Theresa Kennedy, while Miss Essel Selby tallied for the players. After the games the guests were invited to the dining room, the twelve girls scoring the highest number of points being seated at the bride-elect's table, which was laid with a battenburg cloth, and the light from the pink-shaded candelabra cast a soft glow on the crystal and silver. Pink rosebuds were used as decorations. The ices, cakes and mints carried out the color scheme of pink and white. The guest list included the following intimate friends of the bride-elect: Misses Bess and Marie Pixley, Laura and Katherine Haldeman, Nell Stanton, Alice Terry, Pearl McKerrihan, Stephanie Holman, Gertrude Schmidt, Norma Hareh, Essel Selby, Ettaline Grice, Bertha Brand, Edna Streich, Erma Neudoerfer, Marguerite Schirrmann, Austin Doyle, Beatrice Nave, Louise Small, Theresa Kennedy, and Mesdames Frizzel Kenyon, Edward Moeller, Jean Clare Allison and William Stoop.

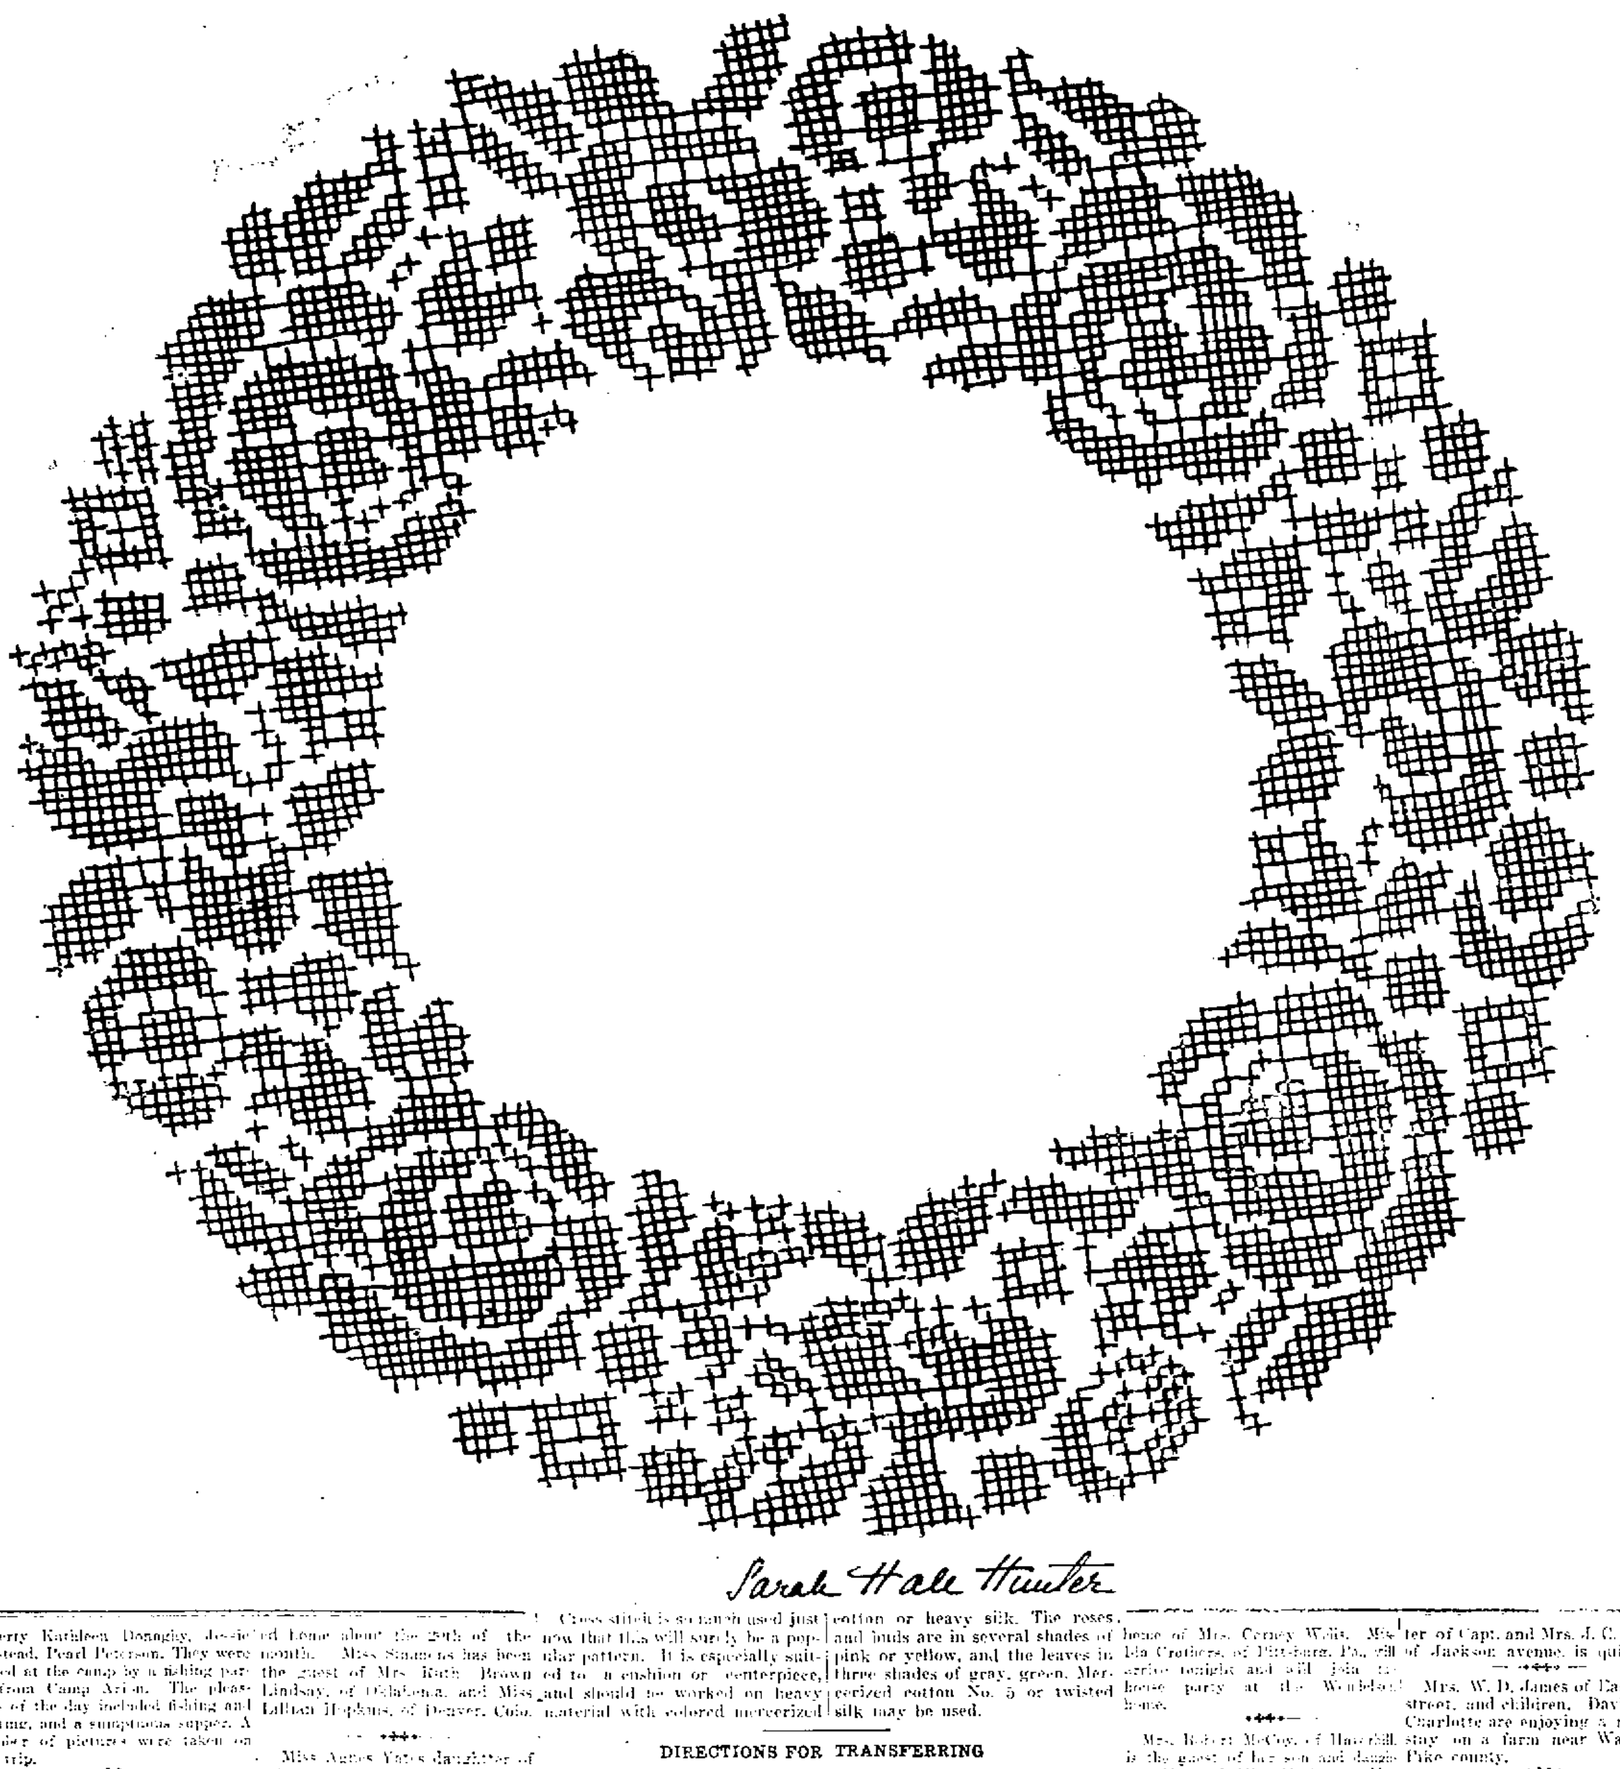
Wreath For Centerpiece or Cushion



Sarah Hall Hunter

Cross stitch is so much used just now that this will surely be a popular pattern. It is especially suited to a cushion or centerpiece, and should be worked on heavy material with colored mercerized cotton or heavy silk. The roses and buds are in several shades of pink or yellow, and the leaves in three shades of gray, green. Mercerized cotton No. 5 or twisted silk may be used.

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING

In taking off these patterns, lay a piece of impression paper upon the material, place the newspaper pattern over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil draw firmly over each line. If the material is sheer it may be laid over the pattern and drawn off with pencil, as the design will show through.

No patterns of these designs are available.

AMERICAN WOMEN WHO WILL SHINE AT COURT

London, June 17—Three American women who will be prominent in the society affairs attending the coronation festivities June 20 to 30 are the Countess of Granard, Mrs. Dandridge Spotswood and Lady Decies. Mrs. Spotswood, who was Miss Katherine von Wolf, was born in the United States, though her grandfather was a baron. She has long been prominent in London society. One of her prized possessions is a jeweled frog she received from King Edward a short time before his death. Lady Decies was Vivien Gould, daughter of George Gould, of New York. The Countess of Granard was Beatrice Mills of New York. She will entertain lavishly during the celebration.

HATTIE B. IN BEST OF SHAPE

J. M. Miles was in the city on Saturday, from his father's farm on the West Side and stated that he would leave for Coshocton, O., next Monday, where his horse, Hattie B. was entered in the speed events. He said the mare had made a mile in 2:12 this year and that he hoped to give her a mark of 2:07 before the season was over. She is in first class condition and will doubtless repeat her wonderful performance of 1910 when she captured first money in practically all the events in which she was entered.

Mrs. Rhulman Much Better

Mrs. Walter Ruhlman, who was so painfully injured in an automobile accident on the Harrisonville "divide" recently, was able to leave her bed, Friday, and will soon be herself again. The accident was a thrilling one and Mrs. Ruhlman is congratulating herself that she came out of it alive.

NEW HORSE IS A SPEEDY "CRITTER."

WOODMEN GO TO CAMP

Attired in their road uniforms of blue the cracks degree team of the Modern Woodmen of America accompanied by many other members of the lodge, left Saturday afternoon on N. & W. train No. 15 for Buffalo, where the National Encampment will be held next week.

There were thirty-seven Woodmen in the party and a few ladies, and they occupied a special Big Four coach, which was attached to No. 15. The party will be whirled through to Buffalo with but few stops. At Ironton seven Woodmen were permitted to enter the Portsmouth coach. When the local members piled on the train at the depot this afternoon fully 200 people were there to give them a rousing send off. It was in inspiring scene.

The lodge men will be quartered in tents, twenty having been reserved for the local contingent, and they will be conveniently located on the camp grounds. The tented city will be five miles long. The competitive drilling will begin Monday morning at 9 o'clock. There will be four divisions and each division will be made up of fifty teams. The local boys are in good shape and expect to return home with a big slice of the prize money.

Business To Go Right On

John D. Wente, who is erecting a new meat shop on Gallia and Findlay streets, will move into the rear part which he had erected first in order that he would not have to suspend business. The old stand will be torn down and a brick building of one story erected in its place.

Street Kept Rising; Broken Main, Cause

The cause of the unusual condition that has existed at the intersection of Fourteenth and Union streets for some months past, was discovered Saturday morning.

The street at the above corner has been gradually rising until of late it became so elevated that traffic was endangered. Assistant Service Director Geo. Schneider, who has been watching the paved intersection steadily moving upwards all along believed that it was caused by the roots of an old elm tree that was leveled when the Bannon park was reduced.

City Engineer J. L. Hudson was of the opinion that water mains were responsible and this proved correct. One of the mains was found to be leaking and though the street has a concrete base this was gradually forced up until the middle of the intersection was considerably higher than the sides of the streets. Kelley Bros. will make immediate repairs.

Firemen Forming A Protective Body

Many of the members of the Portsmouth fire department are now much interested in and are busy becoming acquainted with the objects and principles of the Ohio Firemen's Protective Association organized and incorporated under the statutes of the State of Ohio on May 3, 1911.

The motto of the association is "Unity," and its object shall be to promote the general welfare of the firemen of Ohio; to assist disabled members financially; to provide a certain sum of money to the beneficiary of a deceased member (the amount to be specified at the first annual convention of the association) and to create unity and friendship among its members.

Any and all white members of any duly organized fire department in the state are eligible as members, and the dues is $2 annually.

The attention of the local fire laddies was called to the new association by B. F. Houston, third vice president and a member of the Cincinnati Eights, while here on a visit recently.

The value and the benefits derived from such an organization is apparent and its formation is an important step for that body of men.

Already enough members have joined hands with the society to assure its success and the membership is increasing rapidly. The list will probably be swelled by a number of the local fire fighters.

The association will hold its first annual convention at Cedar Point on July 17, 18 and 19, and the charter will be open until that time.

Lost Lads Cry On Street; Are Rescued

Without any address to guide them and total strangers in the city, Warren Colley, aged 14, and his 9-year-old brother, Roy, came here from Laurel Furnace, Ky., Friday, on a visit to relatives, and got lost.

The two neatly dressed country boys arrived on the packet Greyhound, which they had boarded at Greenup. They were to have come the day before, but were delayed, and that was perhaps the reason why their uncle, Mace McGuire, failed to meet them at the wharfboat. Their father, Charles Colley, a farmer, had written a letter to McGuire, apprising him of the boys' coming.

McGuire himself has been in Portsmouth only a month and was supposed to be working at the N. & W. terminals. After wandering about in the rain for some hours the older boy began crying. Pedestrians were attracted to them and directed them to police headquarters. At first the officers were inclined to believe the youngsters were runaways. The older one burst into occasional crying spells, while the smaller one seemed to be indifferent to his fate, smiling continually.

Mace McGuire was not known at the Terminals, and a number of other places were called, but without result. Finally his address was learned from the postoffice authorities and the boys were safely delivered to him at his home on Jackson street.

Right House, Wrong Room; Burglar Scare

Doc Garrison, a down town barber, was responsible for a big burglar scare in a certain West Fourth street home the other night. Doc occupies the front room of the house and just after turning in about midnight felt thirsty. He thought of the kitchen on the second floor and which is exclusively used by an aged woman and daughter having rooms upstairs. Doc lighted the gas and had just commenced stirring around in the kitchen when the women awakened. "Who's there?" they demanded again and again before Doc could muster enough courage to reply. He made himself known and was given an unmerciful raking. The women aroused the entire neighborhood and meanwhile Doc returned to his room. It required some tall begging to keep the women from carrying out their threats of calling the police.

MASS MEETING BOOMS NEW CITY PLAYGROUND

Preliminary steps were taken towards a public play-ground in the North End at an enthusiastic mass meeting of colored citizens held at the Findlay Street Methodist church Friday night.

Mayor H. C. Searey was the principal speaker of the meeting which was presided over by Rev. T. R. Fletcher, pastor of the church. The Mayor spoke in his usual happy vein and at once awakened interest and enthusiasm in the movement. Rev. Fletcher and Rev. Mr. Wright, pastor of Pleasant Green Baptist church, both spoke strongly in favor of the project. All present seemed anxious to lend a helping hand and the opinion prevailed that the colored citizens themselves could raise a good sized sum for the playground by holding a "Tag Day" and selling buttons.

The Mayor suggested that the playground be started with a wading pool and other equipment could be added from time to time. Some of the colored lodges were in session Friday night or the attendance would have been still better. It was decided to hold another meeting next Friday night at which a committee will be appointed to decide upon a location. Some of the officers of the Civic Federation will attend this meeting. After the committee has picked upon a site Mayor Searey and the Federation will endeavor to secure the same either by donation, lease or purchase.

Back to The Days When Heroes In Blue Fought

(By Nina M. Ayres.)

Back to the memories of half a [illegible] to a time that seemed [illegible] day to the old soldier who [illegible] to Portsmouth after an [illegible] of ten years, to meet with [illegible] in blue, who will celebrate [illegible] anniversary of the battle of Vienna, Va., tonight!

What a pleasure it is to talk to [illegible] and hear the old sto[illegible] will make the heart thrill [illegible] and strengthens the love [illegible] America!

[illegible] and who in Company G [illegible] O. V. I., does not remember [illegible] Keer, the youngest lad in [illegible] who so valiantly stood [illegible] John Barnes and John Volner [illegible] the morning of the battle of Vienna when Barnes and five others were instantly killed? Who of Company G does not remember Billy Keer, as he cut the ligament [illegible] the shattered arm of Volner [illegible] who took off his blouse and [illegible] the flow of the hero's [illegible]

[illegible] you think Billy Keer will [illegible] of the honored guests at the [illegible] tonight? Last Saturday he came from Columbus, Ohio, and is [illegible] at the home of his sister, Miss Maria Keer, on East Fourth street. He expects to leave Mon[illegible] for Cincinnati to visit his son. [illegible] a Times representative today [illegible] "I haven't been with the [illegible] at their anniversary of the battle of Vienna for ten years, and I [illegible] to come to be with them on [illegible] fiftieth celebration."

Fifty years ago! Yet the mind today is bright and active, and the [illegible] was a most interesting one.

Billy Keer is well known in Portsmouth. He was the son of a Tol[illegible], Staffordshire, Eng., Irishman. His father hot straightened and [illegible] the first railroad ties that [illegible] laid in America. The family [illegible] to this country when "Billy" [illegible] one year of age. They located in Danville, Pa., where the father worked for two years in the tie [illegible]. From there they went to [illegible], and then to the North[illegible]. From there they went to Vir[illegible], later to Pittsburg, then to [illegible]; still later to Hanging [illegible] and finally on the second day [illegible] February, 1854, they came to Portsmouth, where the family be[illegible] prominent in business affairs.

[illegible] on April 15, 1861, that the president issued his first proclamation calling for 75,000 volunteers. At that time "Billy" Keer was not [illegible], but he had the spirit and [illegible] of the first to enlist, and on the morning of April 16, he with [illegible] left Portsmouth and [illegible] Cincinnati with Company G, O. V. I.

[illegible] B. Lawson, another surviving member of Company G, was [illegible] of age, and the oldest of the company was Thomas A. Malatt, [illegible] 17 years of age.

"[illegible] imagine boys of our [illegible] hundreds of miles?" [illegible] Keer today. "It was a trip that [illegible] never be forgotten, and the [illegible] that we gave Senator Newman, father of Mr. George O. Newman, of this city, was another picture [illegible] is fresh in my memory.

"[illegible] marched to Camp Chase [illegible] from High street in Columbus, Ohio, and our rations had [illegible] given us, when Senator Newman drove out to see the company from Portsmouth. Imagine [illegible] surprise when he saw his own [illegible] George O. Newman, enlisted [illegible] orderly sergeant.

"[illegible] Senator Newman saw our [illegible] drove back into the city [illegible] members of the senate com[illegible] in a few hours we were [illegible] in the senate chamber, [illegible] taking our meals at [illegible]

[illegible] o'clock the next morning [illegible] Washington. [illegible] was in Pittsburg [illegible] word had gone forth that [illegible] soldiers were starving. [illegible] loads of provi[illegible] the boys had a great [illegible] we did not remain long [illegible] were soon on our [illegible] caster, Pa. From there [illegible] Philadelphia and later [illegible]. Our troops were [illegible] pass through Balti[illegible]

[illegible] Sixth Massachusetts [illegible] Baltimore they were [illegible] fight their way trough [illegible] and we were ordered to [illegible] but fortunately we [illegible]

"I [illegible] never forget," continued [illegible] Keer, "when we finally [illegible] Washington. We marched [illegible] of the White House, [illegible] Lincoln and Secre[illegible] were standing. When [illegible] the president with [illegible] turned to his secretary [illegible] Our capital is safe, Ohio [illegible]

[illegible] never been in the his[illegible] and it is one thing [illegible] should be proud of.

[illegible] the battle of Vienna! [illegible] every moment of [illegible] some parts of it I [illegible] erase from my mem[illegible]. It was there that [illegible] comrades fall at my side [illegible] again.

[illegible] entering the little town [illegible] Vienna now stands, and our train had hardly rounded the curve when the rebels opened fire. I was standing between John Barnes, who was instantly killed, and John Volner, whose arm and shoulder were torn off by a twelve-pound ball.

"Our troops rallied from the fire from the enemy and we kept Volner in our tent ten days, but what agony he suffered from his shattered shoulder! For days huge balls of worms oozed out of the shoulder, and none of us expected to see the brave soldier after he was taken to the hospital. But he died less than a year ago at Chillicothe, and I saw him at the reunion held in that town three years ago, and he was "one of the boys" whose remembrance of the battle of Vienna was the keenest.

"Portsmouth should be proud of one of its former and beloved citizens," said Mr. Keer, as the Times representative reluctantly started to leave the interesting talker. "I mean," he continued, "Mrs. Purcell, whose husband was a captain in the Mexican army. Mrs. Purcell was a member of the sewing circle of All Saints Episcopal church, and as soon as the war broke out she was instrumental in turning the circle into the first ladies relief corps of Ohio, and I believe the first corps in the country.

"When we reached Lancaster, Pa., the ladies of Portsmouth had sent us two large boxes of bandages and many other necessary things for a soldier's life.

"To me Mrs. Purcell is the greatest woman in American history. She spent a fortune looking after the families of the soldiers who were called to the front, and none were forgotten."

What a story "Billy" Keer can tell! He takes you with him in his reminiscences, and what a picture he can bring to the mind's eye!

Backward to the years when America was in the throes of a bloody conflict. Back to the time when old glory was hovering between the mast head and the bottom of the flag staff, but the fine old mind of "Billy" Keer is still young in memories and he will be a welcome guest at the banquet tonight.

2Fingers Cut Off

Antonio Pertuset, a Greek employed at the plant of the Portsmouth Steel Company, lost two fingers Friday by having his left hand caught beneath a heavy plate. They were cut off back of the second joint and so smoothly that his physician had very little work to do in dressing them. Pertuset lives in the Greek colony at New Boston.

BRADY HAS ATTACK OF WESTERN FEVER

R. O. Brady, a popular young Hill Top merchant, has developed somewhat of a hankering to go West. He may leave some time this fall on a prospecting trip and if he lives the section may decide to later locate there.

Operation A Success

Mrs. George Egbert, of 1017 Offnere street, received a telegram from the physicians at the Mayo hospital, last night, stating that her sister, Miss Rena Holmes, was operated on Friday morning at 8:30 for goitre, and was doing very well.

Miss Holmes went to Rochester, Minn., about two weeks ago and expects to be able to return to Portsmouth in two weeks.

ILL HEALTH CAUSED HIM TO QUIT JOB

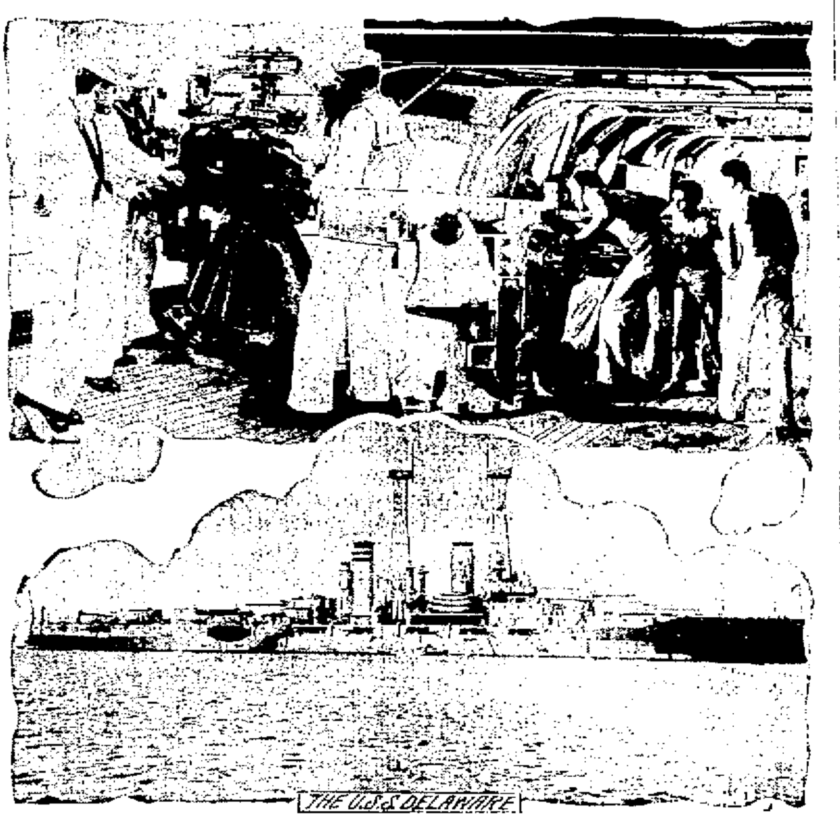
Completing Details Of The Coronation

London, Eng., June 17.—The two leading churchmen of Britain will participate in the coronation ceremonies. The archbishop of Canterbury will crown King George, and the archbishop of York will crown Queen Mary. In the cut herewith are shown the archbishop of Canterbury, the royal coach which the king and queen will use on coronation day and also the famous coronation chair, containing under it the celebrated stone of Scone. English monarchs for years have been seated on this stone at their coronation.

War Dog That Represents Uncle Sam



THE U.S.S DELAWARE

London, Eng., June 17.—The United States battleship Delaware, which will represent the United States in the naval ceremonies at the coronation, will be the largest war vessel in the international fleet that is assembling in English waters to honor King George V. and Queen Mary. The Delaware, commanded by Rear Admiral Vreeland and known as the "greatest of all Dreadnoughts," holds the world's naval record for speedy long distance cruising. Before leaving America for England and since last December the Delaware churned through over 25,000 miles of ocean, a sensational accomplishment. It was the Delaware that carried the body of the late Chilean minister to the United States back to his native land early in the winter after a notable cruise in European waters with the other vessels of the Atlantic fleet.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE

(Nina M. Ayres.)

"Goodness gracious, I haven't time to be polite to every one," said the Busy Girl, as she angrily threw aside some legal papers on which she had been working, when her employer gently admonished her because she had been impolite to one of his woman clients.

Hasn't time to be polite!

This old world is a busy one but the pace is not yet too swift to forget politeness.

Especially is the Busy Girl expected to be polite. She can at times make or mar her employer's business. If she is polite to everyone who comes into her office she will soon make new friends and customers for her employer.

Miss Busy Girl doesn't have to be familiar with strangers but she should be courteous at all times.

What is more pleasant than to go into a business man's office and be met by a pleasant girl who knows her business? She always makes you feel like coming again, and it is this girl who will always command the respect and attention of the business world.

Copy her little Busy Girl and see how much more you are appreciated by your employer.

And be polite in your home. Don't yell at your mother when she gives you advice.

I know it is not easy to be polite, pleasant and patient at all times, but it is excellent for one's character, and it will help one, more than anything else in the world can, to learn the nice little ways which make the woman a social favorite.

Fashion! What it means to the social and business woman. But she is fortunate to live in Portsmouth where the stores abound in exquisite dress patterns and ready made garments.

A beautiful theatre gown seen recently at the Follies Bergere, was worn by a French woman. It was a sheath of black velvet, covered with a tunic in course white tulle, held in at the waist with a large black Chantilly butterfly. It was rendered very original in combination by a broad band of old red brocade placed across the skirt horizontally. The woman wore with this striking gown, a red silk muslin scarf embroidered with sable.

The girl who is getting her midsummer dresses made will do well to view the pretty display of colored materials at Anderson's. The sheer colored fabrics are holding sway at the popular summer resorts.

An attractive ready made gown in white point de sprit trimmed in all over embroidery, was seen at Joseph Brown's last week.

Atlas has on display many beautiful mid-summer frocks, especially for the children.

Bragdon is showing some of the new shades of blue which make such attractive gowns for the cool days we have been enjoying the past week or more.

One delights in a visit to the Style Shop during their big June white sale. There are so many attractive pieces of dainty underwear.

The Brunner store is selling some handsome silk hose this week, and a wardrobe is not complete without silk hose.

Spinach Soup.

Pick over carefully, stem and wash half a peck of spinach. Cook in boiling water for fifteen minutes. Drain, chop on a board, and rub through a vegetable press back into the saucepan. Add a pint of good stock, season with salt and pepper and bring to a boil, stirring in a tablespoonful of butter, rolled in a teaspoonful of flour. Cool for a minute longer and serve immediately.

TELLS OF CHANGE AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Relative to the recent change in management at the Grand theatre the current issue of the Dramatic News has the following of local interest:

"Through a deal just closed the control of the Grand opera house in Portsmouth, O., passes into new hands.

W. E. Kemery, of Parkersburg, W. Va., for six years the lessee, has surrendered his lease to Fred N. Tynes and George M. Taylor, of Portsmouth. The theatre is to be completely renovated, and will be put on a paying basis. Mr. Tynes will soon visit New York, his mission being to engage a number of stellar attractions. He is a practical showman, and to him will be entrusted the business affairs of the Grand. The deal also included the plant of the Portsmouth Bill Posting Company. It will be the aim of the new lessees to book as many shows as possible. The city has a population of 30,000, and the Grand is the only playhouse devoted exclusively to the drama."

WHO'S RIDING IN AIR?

Dozens of persons Friday night saw what is thought to have been a dirigible balloon pass over Portsmouth Friday evening about 8:30.

Jim Arthurs, Holly Whitman, Tom Murphy and others all agree that it was a balloon and carried two lights, one white and the other red. It hovered over the city for a few minutes then disappeared in the northwest.

Rarden Stirred Over Departure Of Girl

The citizens of Rarden are aroused and holding indignation meetings over the actions of a former married woman of that town who deserted her husband and family there some months ago in coming back recently for the purpose of inducing her pretty [illegible] daughter to leave her home to go to a nearby city.

The matter is now being thoroughly investigated by the officials and a united effort may be made to bring back the young girl.

Some of the most prominent citizens of the town have interested themselves in the matter. The husband is an honest, hard-working man and respected citizen.

Cliff Hicks Is Better

Cliff Hicks, of East Front street, who has been seriously ill with jaundice since January, is improving slowly and he hopes to be able to return to his work in two or three weeks. He has had a serious siege of it.

DROPS DEAD IN HER OWN YARD

Seized with an attack of heart failure as she was walking through the yard of her home on Carey's Run, Mrs. Catherine Krouse, wife of Frank Krouse, died a few minutes later. She had been in poor health for several months, but the end came very unexpectedly. Mrs. Krouse had just remarked what a good rain had fallen when she toppled over and was a corpse in less than five minutes. She had been afflicted with dropsy for many weeks.

Mrs. Krouse was 63 years old and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Henckel and Mrs. Morris Allemang, of Carey's Run. She was a most excellent woman, kind and indulgent and her death will be generally mourned on the West Side, where she is best known. The funeral services will take place Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the St. Mary's church. Rev. Father Gloeckner will officiate.

Made Sick By Ghost Tale

William Newman and W. O. Horn are noted for the ghosts they have seen. Wednesday evening they were in Roy McElhaney's barber shop on Market street, telling of these various ghosts. Roy was much interested in the marvelous stories and became so frightened that Dick Millison, his helper, had to take him home.

Roy says he does not want to hear any more ghost stories, and some of his friends say that his hair is turning gray very fast since Wednesday night.

MR. LAUMAN A VISITOR

Former State Senator G. F. Lauman arrived here from his home on Bear Creek Friday evening and registered at The Washington. The Senator came to Portsmouth to attend the annual banquet of Company G, of which he was a member. It is his first visit to the city in months and he has been kept busy renewing acquaintances.

Outfielder Billy Jones, Portsmouth player who was sold, Thursday to the Boston Nationals, left to join that team at Pittsburg early Saturday morning, carrying with him the well wishes of every fan in the city.

He was the center of attraction Friday evening, at a fan feet at Wurster's drug store, where fully 250 fans called to bid him good-bye and wish him the best kind of luck. Everybody that entered the fan emporium, was compelled to have one on Jonsey, who is one of the most liberal fellows on earth. The fan that did not wet his whistle with a coco-cola or tame cherry Friday evening was not down street. Billy also set 'em up to the cigars and all in all it was one grand get-away.

Jones will likely break into the game at once, for the Doves are in a sorry way for outfielders. Flaherty, the scout, who discovered Jones and who signed as a pitcher, has been playing the outfield for some time and Jones expected to get into Saturday's conflict.

He is well acquainted with Manager Tenney of the Doves and expressed his confidence of making good. He has not been in the best of shape for the past ten days, having been suffering with a sore arm the result of being hit on the elbow. However, he stated before leaving that he would have no excuse to offer if he failed to deliver the goods.

The Boston team will go direct from Pittsburg to Boston, where they play a long series of home games. Jones figured that he would be able to drop several over the short right field fence in Beantown, and should he accomplish that feat his friends here in Portsmouth will have a whole lot over which to rejoice, for Jones stands high with the fans here and a more [illegible] conscientious player never stepped on spikes that the boy from Milton [illegible]

Mute Acts As Ump

Fulton, Mo., June 17.—Base ball patrons of Fulton were treated to a spectacle entirely new to them, a ball game umpired by a mute arbiter. Loren Reynolds of Fawcett, Mo., the crack pitcher of the ball team from the Missouri School for Deaf, was the man who handled the indicator, and he did the job well. There were few occasions where a kick would have been justified, and even then they would not have been justified on the grounds that they would have been useful.

Reynolds' fame, however, does not rest in his prowess as an umpire. He is the best pitcher turned out by the local school in years and bids fair to become as famous as "Dummy" Taylor, the former Giant twirler. Already he has received offers from professional ball teams, and the indications are that he will be seen in the uniform of some minor league club this summer.

Reynolds with his battery mate, Sanders, recently aided the Westminster base ball team in defeating the crack Cheyenne Indians. News of his clever work was sent back to the Copper States league circuit and several of those teams have made him offers. It seems now as if he will accept the offer made by the Laramie, Wyo., team.

In the 78 innings he has pitched so far this season he has struck out 132 players of the opposing teams. His most notable achievements were 26 strikeouts against the Kemper Military academy at Boonville, and 21 strikeouts against the Fulton All Stars.

Reynolds went to St. Louis last summer and Roger Bresnahan of the Cardinals tried him out. He said he had the earmarks of a good twirler, and with seasoning in the minors, ought to develop into a high class twirler.

JOHNSON ORDERS A $20,000 AUTO AS GIFT FOR THIS WHITE WIFE

London, June 17.—Jack Johnson has ordered the most expensive automobile obtainable as a gift for his white wife. It will be a limousine and will cost $15,000. The champion signed a contract yesterday with a jeweler for $2500 worth of interior fittings. The car will be royal blue in color and will be lined with blue and gold brocade. Included in the fittings will be gold vases of a [illegible] gold arrangement, containing cigaret boxes, match boxes, flasks and scent bottles and powder boxes.

When the question of [illegible] arose Johnson [illegible] also ordered a duplicate set in silver for ordinary use. The initials "J. A. J." will be emblazoned on the panel and incrusted with emeralds sapphires, so imbedded that to steal them would be impossible.

Johnson and his wife spent yesterday in their great racing car and were cheered by the populace and followed by [illegible] wherever they went. The champion is the idol of the street [illegible]. Whenever he [illegible] stops [illegible] the [illegible] is forced to feel his muscles. [illegible] has ordered expensive [illegible] for his wife.

BRID BOSS SLUGGER

In six of the last seven games on the road the Giants have made seven or more hits. In the other six games they fell as low as five hits only once, says the New York Telegram. In a total of 311 trips to the plate 100 hits were made. Bridwell has been the star of the team with the bat and [illegible]. Locals Purchase Potts

President W. N. Gableman of the Portsmouth Champs was in Chillicothe Friday, where he closed a deal with the management of the Babes for the services of Fred Potts, the Cleveland University boy, and who is to join the local team Saturday, possibly in time to participate in today's game.

Potts was purchased outright by Pres. Gableman, but what price was paid for the outfielder was not given out.

The news of Potts' purchase will be received with gladness by the fans of Portsmouth. The chubby built collegiate is one of the most promising youngsters ever seen in action at Millbrook park. He is a natural 300 hitter and batted considerably over this figure last season, when a member of the Chillicothe team. He is fast as a flash, bats left handed and is a daring base runner. He hit at a 310 clip for the Babes and should do fully as well for the Champs.

Potts could not come to terms with the Chillicothe management this spring and has been a hold out since the season opened. He has been attending college at Cleveland, where he has been coaching the baseball team and will report to Portsmouth in the best possible shape. He will be placed in right field and the fans can bank on seeing him guard well that precinct.

The club management is to be congratulated upon the securing of Potts. He will fit in nicely, now that Billy Jones has gone to join the Boston team and the playing strength of the Champs has not been weakened at all. Potts will steal as many bases as Jones and will score as many runs. He is as fast in the field as the Millinocket boy and should at once jump into popular favor.

Manager Childs is delighted over the securing of Potts. He stated last season that he considered him one of the best youngsters he ever saw and he personally expressed his hearty approval over the deal that landed the collegiate in the Champ camp.

The locals will not have an outfield in which two former Babes will cavort, Messrs. Tennant and Potts, which will make the rivalry between the two teams a little more keen than ever.

Nice Word For "Irish"

Umpire Harry Truby stated Friday that he considered "Irish" Conwell, the third baseman for the Champs, one of the most promising players he ever saw. He says there are several good infielders in the Ohio State league, but that he would have to admit "Irish" had it on most all of 'em. Truby believes that Conwell will go in in select society this year, and in this opinion he is backed by sound judgment, for the Columbus boy is certainly going great guns these days and his hitting is a revelation. He is swatting at a 292 clip, leading such noted sluggers as Whalen of Chillicothe and Weller of Marion. If he keeps on climbing the next time the averages are published Conwell will find his name in select society. He is easily the classiest third sacker in the league and one of the most timely hitters in the business.

Riehl Joins Lanks

Word was received here, Friday evening, that Charley Riehl, who jumped the Lanks the other day, had come to terms with Owner George Buff and that he would again assume the managerial reins at Chillicothe Saturday.

Riehl has been in Columbus following his dispute with the Lanks owner and had hoped that he would be traded to some other team in the league. Buff, however, convinced Riehl that his place was at the head of the Lanks and the good natured one gave in at once.

The fans here are pleased that Riehl saw the error of his way and glad to know he will again act as the pilot for the Fairfield county aggregation. He is a splendid leader, a gentleman and a credit to the game. He was peeved over the remarks made by some of the thoughtless fans in Lancaster and quit the team rather than stand for abuse.

Notes About Lanks

Lancaster Eagle.

If Mr. Huff can make a favorable trade that will strengthen the Lanks, it will be more than likely that he will do so. If Mr. Riehl wont play any more ball with Lancaster and Owner Huff can get a good trade for the leading slugger, he will go. Manager Al Newnham is after Charley, as there are also a couple of other clubs. A deal will be closed shortly no doubt.

The Lanks still present a crippled line-up, but at that have been playing a strong game. President Huff is after a second baseman, and first baseman to strengthen the team. Another pitcher will also be added in a few days.

Bartow must have had considerable more on his shoots Thursday than he did the day he attempted to hurl for the Cobblers on the yard here. He was simply walloped right that fair day.

Catcher Ball who has been holding down the first sack has been sent to his home at Dayton. Ball was a little home sick and Manager Epler permitted him to go. Cheney will play the first sack at Chillicothe today.

A BIG JOKE DEAL IS RECALLED BY THE CHICAGO-BOSTON TRADE

The trade of Kling and others by Frank Chance for Graham, Goode and others of the Boston Nationals recalls the big joke deal made by New York and Boston some years ago, when Frank Bowerman, Dan McGann, Bill Dahlen and Cecil Ferguson went to Boston for Fred Tenney, Al Bridwell and Tom Needham.

McGraw was in need of a first-class first sacker and a shortstop. He secured them in Tenney and Bridwell. Bridwell is [illegible] the [illegible] fielders [illegible] has been [illegible] in wonderful style since becoming a member of the Giants.

Tenney lasted just long enough for McGraw to develop [illegible] under the watchful eye of [illegible]. [illegible] the [illegible] team of the New England league.

Of the four men landed by the Boston team from New York, Ferguson is the only one left and the reason he is still with the team is that he does not get much chance to show what he possesses, if, in fact, he has anything that qualifies him as a pitcher. Since joining the Boston team he has pitched about three good games.

Bowerman played fair ball for a while and finally landed the job as manager of the team. Dahlen was an excellent player during the time he was with Boston and the best move the management of the team ever made was when it released him to Brooklyn, which team he is managing today. Bill, however, realizes that his day as a player was over years ago and does not attempt to play for Brooklyn.

Tenney came back as manager of the Boston team this season under the new regime.

Molders To Go Direct To Piqua

The Newark team will go direct from Portsmouth to Piqua, O., where they will finish the season.

That, at least, is the way matters now look. Owner Harry Kiene is at Piqua where season books are being sold and where everything looks lovely for the entrance of Piqua into the Ohio State league.

Newark has been tried and found wanting and will hereafter be tabooed as a baseball town. The city has deceived the baseball owners too often and like the sheep herder yelling "Wolfe," will be passed up like a pay tramp does a tramp in the future.

Piqua will support a team in the Ohio State league. She will prove a second Chillicothe and the players will find their berth is a pleasant one. They are intelligent in that city, and that is more than can be said of the fans in Newark. Even the members of the Newark team have soured on that city, and at least two of them say they will quit the game rather than return there. They claim that many of the fans are not red blooded ones, that they curl up like burnt paper every time one of the home boys make an error or fail to secure a timely hit, and hurl epithets at the players, disgusting the better element. They will welcome the change to Piqua, and will receive a reception from the fans that will warm them to the marrow.

The team will likely be known as the "[illegible]" after they once take up their residence in Piqua.

Goulait As Sulker

Goulait's actions in the box were [illegible] excusable, no matter how poorly the men behind him were playing, says Red Gableman in the Lima Times. WINE SUPPER FOR POLO PLAYES COST $36,000

New York, June 17.—The last of the three big polo games promised by the American Polo association will be played tomorrow on Meadowbrook field, though it will lack international flavor.

It was learned today that the wine supper given the visiting British players by the American team last Tuesday night at the Cafe Beaux Arts cost $36,000. There were 60 guests present, the cost per plate being $600.

Costly souvenirs were given away and large quantities of champagne consumed.

CARDINALS OWNER HAS SUED FOR A DIVORCE

Cleveland, June 17.—Mrs. Schuyler Britton, who holds a controlling interest in the St. Louis National league baseball club, commenced suit for divorce here yesterday, charging her husband, who is a lawyer, with cruelty and neglect.

The Brittons, who have been married 10 years, separated a few weeks ago. Mrs. Britton was Helen Hathaway Robison, niece of Stanley Robison, who died here last April, leaving the controlling interest in the ball club to her.

BILLY JONES GETS FEW PRESENTS

Despite the fact that he left the city on a moment's notice, almost, Billy Jones, Portsmouth's crack right fielder, who was sold to the Boston National league team, did not go away Saturday morning empty handed. He was remembered by the officials of the Portsmouth club with a substantial present, while Si Straus, proprietor of the Cincinnati Salvage Co., presented him with a dozen pair of silk hose. Some of them were pretty loud and Jones will be heard coming up Pennsylvania avenue long before he is seen. There are few ball players who ever drew salary from the Portsmouth club but who knows of the liberality of Mr. Straus. Mr. Jones was proficient in his thanks for the hosiery and he will no doubt cut quite a swath of dress parade.

LOVING CUP FOR JAPS

Chicago, June 17.—President Harry Pratt Judson will give a silver loving cup to the Japanese ball players from Waseda University on the occasion of their final game with the University of Chicago this afternoon.

The cup bears the inscription: "Presented to the baseball team of Waseda University by the University of Chicago in commemoration of their visit to the United States of America in 1911."

The base is surmounted by crossed baseball bats supporting a sphere.

REDS BUY TWO "CUBANS" FROM NEW BRITAIN

New Britain, Conn., June 17.—The sale of Leftfielder Armando Marsans and Third Baseman Almeida of the New Britain team of the Connecticut league to the Cincinnati Nationals was announced yesterday. The sale price is said to be $7500. Marsans and Almeida both claim to be Cubans, but are regarded here as "half breeds." They both go to Cuba every winter and play there during the winter season. Manager Dan O'Neil, however, claims that both Marsans and Almeida are full-blooded Cubans, and will make a good showing with the Reds.

Claim Is Put In

Detroit, June 17. President Navin of the Detroit Americans, has put in a claim for Collins and Wagner, on whom Boston has asked waivers.

He has plenty of good trading material and is ready to dicker for the Boston members. He wants Collins because he thinks he is a better left-hander than Mitchell, the only Detroit "southpaw," and Wagner would make a much better utility infielder than Lathers.

DIGGER PITCHER IS AMONG THE MISSING

Marion, O., June 17.—Manager Lewis is badly worried over the absence of Mike Ragon, one of his star hurlers. Ragon was called home almost two weeks ago on account of the death of his sister, but promised to wire Lewis last Thursday when he would join the team. Nothing has been heard from him since, and nothing is known as to his present whereabouts. Ragon is a good man, and his continued absence seriously cripples the team.

JENNINGS ON LITTLE BUSH

"Every time that I see Bush play," said "Hughy" McGuire, "it makes me think of a problem that I had when I was a kid in school. It was something about if a man with a yard and a half can buy a dollar and a half what could a man with a dozen eggs get for a bushel of apples? Perhaps I haven't stated the case exactly right, but anyhow if Bush, who seems to be about a yard and a half tall, can play short stop as he does what would he do if he were two yards and a half tall? Which seems to be good.

Lew Ruddy, who suffered a paralytic stroke this spring, will never enter the ring again. His legs are affected, making crutches a necessity.

Piqua Soon To Get The Newark Team

Piqua, O., June 17.—It begins to look as if the Newark baseball team of the Ohio State league would come to Piqua after all. This morning Joe Carr, secretary of the league, arrived in Piqua, and in company with Dr. Prince and H. A. Kuik, owner of the Newark ball team, visited some of the influential merchants and others, who expressed a desire to see the team brought to Piqua. Mr. Carr represents the Ohio State league and assures every one interested that the Newark team in seeing that they keep any contracts as to playing the season through.

If the committee in charge of securing the guarantee necessary can get but fifteen more names on the list of those who will purchase the coupon season tickets to the baseball games, the Newark club will be transferred to Piqua. Owner Keine left this morning for Indianapolis, but will return to Piqua tomorrow morning. This afternoon some of the committee went out to get the remainder, and had every prospect of so doing. If they do, the final arrangements will be made tomorrow and the first game played in Piqua some day next week.

Big League Statistics

New York, June 17.—A baseball statistician here has fixed up a table showing the number of games in which each of the big league clubs has changed pitchers. Cincinnati leads the Nationals with 26 games and Cleveland leads the Americans with 24 games. Only Detroit with 13 and the Philadelphia Americans with 16 have not changed pitchers in more than a third of their games. Most of the teams have been compelled to use two or more box men more than half the time. The list:

National league—Cincinnati 26, St. Louis 25, Boston 25, Pittsburg 22, New York 22, Brooklyn 21, Philadelphia 18, Chicago 18.

American league—Cleveland 24, Washington 23, New York 20, Boston 20, St. Louis 20, Philadelphia 16, Detroit 13.

BASEBALL

It's pretty hard to keep sober and not get in the limelight. The best stunt Bugs Raymond has been able to do this season is to ride in an engine cab with his friend the engineer. He did that on the recent journey of the Giants from Chicago to Pittsburg.

Bill Bradley, third baseman for the Cleveland team for a long time, is at his home in Cleveland. Brad is now a member of the Toronto, Ont., club of the Eastern league. He had a finger broken by a batted ball the other day and will be out of the game for a couple of weeks.

One of the queerest angles of base ball for 1911 is the fact that Boston stands last in the National league and has five men in the leading 25 hitters of the older organization. Two of them are hitting better than .300, while the other three are not far away.

About the time that an article is appearing in the public prints as coming from John McGraw that ball players cannot remain out of the game a few years and then come back, the New York manager acquire Mike Donlin and in the interests of a trade proclaims that Come Back Mike is as good as ever.

Baltimore citizens, from the mayor down, have started a serious movement to buy a major league franchise. They are sure they will get one next year, but not yet decided as to which franchise they will get. That is a mere matter of detail that does not worry the betting Baltimoreans.

Rudy Hulswitt, former field captain of Chattanooga and former major leaguer, purchased his release from Chattanooga on Sunday and is now a free agent. Hulswitt was mentioned to figure in a trade for Doc Newton, former major league twirler, now with Louisville. This deal has been declared off.

If all reports of deals made by the Montgomery Southern league club are to be believed, there will be a merry scramble next fall to get the "pick" of the Montgomery team. Up to date Montgomery has promised the St. Louis Browns, Brooklyn and Cleveland the choice of its players in return for favors.

Some one has delved into the dope and figured that June 3 is the fateful day for making home runs with the bases full. Frank Schulte did it this year for Chicago. In 1902 on the same date Mike O'Neill did it for the St. Louis Cardinals and in 1909, the same date, Hans Wagner did it for the Pirates. Just happens so.

The shoe does not fit the writer, who never has mentioned "close decisions" but such a term, though incorrect, is not more so than "beat out a bunt," "flied to Leach," "went out to center," "died at first," "stole second" and a score of other terms of popular baseball lingo. Sport writers really have it soft. They can make all kinds of grammatical faults and their readers credit them with having pulled something funny.

Butcher, a New Orleans outfielder, may be signed by the Naps. Dave Callahan of the same club may also rejoin the Naps.

Matt Wells, England's lightweight champion, has his mother, who is 70 years of age, accompany him on his travels.

Manager McAleer of Washington has signed an outfielder by the name of Long. He comes from the Southeastern league.

It is generally believed that Fielder Jones will be the manager of the Cleveland Naps next season.

Divorce Case Is On Sensational Order

A suit for divorce and alimony was filed Saturday by Attorneys Bannon & Bannon on behalf of Lucy Burris vs James Burris and embodied in the petition of the plaintiff are some surprising allegations.

The couple were married Dec. 9, 1888, and four sons were born of such marriage, aged 17, 15, 13 and 10, all of whom are living at home, the two eldest assisting in the support of the family.

The plaintiff avers she has always conducted herself as a good and faithful wife, and kept house and worked out for other people to assist in paying living expenses of the family.

The petition alleges the defendant paid grocery bills, nothing more, except in winter when he bought shoes for the children. All other expenses were paid by the plaintiff and her sons.

The plaintiff gives two causes of action, the first alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and that she has been compelled to leave her home and cannot live with him any longer; that he has threatened to kill her and is about to do so and will do unless restrained by the court.

The second cause of action alleges that about 10 years ago defendant committed adultery with one Laura Davis and that a child, known as Goldie Davis, now nine years old, was born. This plaintiff says she learned by hearsay but was not positive of the fact until a few days ago, when she alleges defendant admitted his illicit relations with Laura Davis and insisted on plaintiff taking said Goldie Davis to their home to raise, claiming it was his child.

The plaintiff asks that the defendant be enjoined from interfering with her or coming about her and that on final hearing of this cause that such injunction be made perpetual; that she be granted a divorce, custody of the boys and that he be ordered to pay such sum as the court thinks proper out of his earnings.

The defendant is employed at the Portsmouth Steel plant and earns about $3.00 per day. The family resides on East Eighth St.

W. P. MINEGO
Theatrical Editor,

When the Millbrook Company inaugurates its third annual summer season at the pretty Casino on Monday night theatre-goers will have the opportunity of judging what a dramatic stock company of carefully selected players can really do with a difficult play. And while none better could have been chosen for the opening attraction to fully display the utmost strength of the organization "Camille" is the most exacting and difficult production ever attempted by Mr. Berthelet at the Casino.

That he is confident of a perfect performance on Monday night, thorough and finished in every detail, is something of an assurance that this year's company will excel any he has ever brought to Portsmouth.

No doubt the center of first night interest will be Mr. Harry L. Minturn, the new leading man of the company. Of course all are anxious to pass judgment upon Miss Kent in so famous and wonderful a part as "Camille", but the remembrance of her many delightful characterizations last year leaves no room for doubt or speculation as to the degree of her conquest in this great role.

Mr. Minturn is perfectly suited to such parts as Armand Duval, and his acting is sure to be another charming feature in the enjoyable productions that are to come.

Special scenery has been built for the opening play, which is sure to be an artistic success. Mr. Berthelet is thorough in everything he undertakes and "Camille" will no doubt be received enthusiastically.

Additional interest is lent in the appearance of Mr. Roy Gordon, a local boy, who has attained considerable prominence in the theatrical world through his own untiring efforts. Mr. Gordon's entry will be greeted by a hearty round of applause. The Millbrook Stock Company enjoys a profitable clientele.

Its plays are always carefully and systematically handled and with Mr. Berthelet at the helm the business end is also ably conducted.

The interest that has been manifest in the approaching dramatic season at the Casino indicates the degree of esteem in which the Millbrook Company is locally held and is a tribute to its achievements of the past two summers.

After a winter of unprecedented dullness and scarcity of high class theatrical attractions, the promise of ten weeks of carefully produced and well acted plays of note, will be welcomed with pleasant anticipation.

The management shall not enter into any prolonged description of plans for the present season nor the many merits of the Millbrook Company of 1911 since it would be almost as wearisome to pursue it as it will be enjoyable to follow its development.

There is scarcely an event in the dramatic year that arouses more interest than the return each summer of the Millbrook Company and this admirable organization now formally announces its opening performance of the season of 1911 on next Monday night, June 19, with an elaborate revival of Alexandre Dumas' masterdrama "Camille." For more than half a century this play has held the most dignified and exalted place among the standard literature of the world. A brilliant [illegible] life is "Camille" and fast to the heartstrings held the life stories of Camille and Armand Duval.

"Camille" is a happy selection for the opening day for in addition to bringing into the limelight the many old favorites of the company, it provides especially strong parts for all the new players. Especially Mr. Harry Minturn, the leading man, whose appearance here is awaited with an unusual degree of interest.

The Millbrook Company is composed of the following players:

Miss Louise Kent.
Miss Marion Herbert.
Mr. Francis Pierlot.
Miss Florence Guise.
Mr. Roy Gordon.
Mr. Harry Minturn.
Mr. Atwood Walker.
Miss Clara Dalton.
Miss Billee Leister.
Mr. Jack Herbert.
Mr. Arthur Berthelet.

Mr. Jones has established offices in the Schiller building, Chicago, and intends to put out the "Goddess of Liberty" in a representative manner with a big cast. About the middle of next October, Mr. Jones will also put out a new production now in preparation, which is to be staged by Ned Wayburn.

B. C. Whitney has secured the rights to the three Charles Dillingham musical plays, "The Fair Co-Ed", "The Echo," and "The Candy Shop" and will offer them on the road next season.

KYRLE BELLEW LIKES THE OCEAN

New York, June 16.—Among the passengers sailing for Southampton via the West Indies on the Royal Mail steamer Orotava were Kyrle Bellew, the actor, and Frank A. Conor, the comedian, who were booked for the entire trip, which will take thirty days. Mr. Bellew said that he usually spent his summer vacations on hunting expeditions. "I am taking a trip to see the West Indies, and especially the Panama Canal. The steamer stops two days at Colon, which will give Mr. Conor and myself ample time to take the train across the Isthmus and see Culebra Cut and the big dam at Gatun."

FAVORS LOWER GALLERY PRICES

Charles Frohman has hit upon a scheme to put the picture houses out of business. In a letter this week to the New York papers he advocates a reduction in gallery prices next season. He says: "You lower the prices in the gallery and you will take away a big percentage of the patrons of the picture houses. I'm heartily in favor of a reduction and believe the idea is a good one." As Mr. Frohman is a pretty big man in the theatrical world his views will call forth some pretty discussion.

FILED SUIT FOR IMMENSE SUM

W. R. Hearst has instituted suit for $500,000 against Robert J. Collier for the publication of an alleged false and defamatory libel in the publication known as "Collier's," issued June 2. The article is entitled "The Unhealthy Alliance," and an important part of it has to do with the alleged practice of big theatrical interests procuring a leading editorial in the Hearst papers commending certain attractions by the use of big display advertisements in the same paper. In illustration of this particular part of the publication Collier's printed a page of facsimiles of Hearst editorials and display in juxtaposition with the display ads which it was claimed had influenced the editorials.

In a letter received from Paris recently by F. Ziegfeld, Jr., his wife, Anna Held, writes that Melville Ellis of the Shubert staff called on her in Paris and made her an offer nothing short of fabulous for her services during the season of 1911-12. The actress is under contract with her husband and so informed Ellis. The latter thereupon, according to the letter, made an even more urgent offer to Miss Held for the season of 1912-13. Miss Held declined to consider any offer of any kind and referred Ellis to her husband.

Fair Lillian Russell is back in New York and life is again worth the living on Broadway as "Lil" gives all the Broadwayites a treat every day when she strolls nonchalantly down the artery of stagedom. Some beauty is Lillian.

"Youth", a new play produced in New York this week created no especial furore. It is by Max Halbe.

Among the plays to be produced at the Casino this summer will be Amelia Bingham's greatest success "The Climbers." It is a splendid comedy drama and will be given an adequate interpretation by Manager Berthelet's excellent company.

✣ ✣ ✣

De Wolf Hopper and Arnold Daly will have new plays the coming season.

The New Leading Man at the Casino This Season. His Polished Bearing, Suave Manners and Versatility Will be Quickly Recognized.

WAS PIRATING BERNSTEIN PLAY

San Jose, June 17.—Playing "The Thief," a Frohman-owned play by Bernstein, may cost W. T. Warren, the millionaire San Francisco and San Jose capitalist, a pretty penny. After staging the production elaborately for nearly a week, the San Jose stock company, owned by Warren and managed by M. H. Nickell, was forced today to change its bill.

Nickell claims to have wired the Frohmans for a price on the play for stock use, and stated today that he did not receive a reply until he had the play on the boards several days. Then the answer was a telegram announcing that the play was not available for stock productions, and that the Frohman interests would take immediate steps to obtain damages and an injunction if the play were not taken off. Nickell immediately started his cast playing another piece.

✣ ✣ ✣

"Stock is hard work, but I like it," says Harry L. Minturn of the Millbrook Stock Company playing at the Casino.

"I'd rather work for a stock audience than any other kind; I suppose because they are generally more kind and less censorious than any other. They overlook our faults and short comings and seem to realize that we are doing the best we can under the circumstances. Don't for one minute think we actors don't appreciate all the kindnesses shown by audiences. They are beginning to understand stock work better than used to be the case.

"I think that the day is coming when stock companies will be organized to remain in the theatre and have traveling stars who will play the leads. This method used to obtain several years ago and was eminently satisfactory. Stock work is fascinating in that it gives an ample opportunity for various characterizations, but I am always glad to leave it for a time and then I travel as fast as trains can take me to the Catskills, where I have a bungalow. It's big enough for me and my dogs. They are my delight. My St. Bernards are—well I won't praise them too much; you might think me too proud of my success in raising them.

THE SONG HITS.

Here are a few of the late song hits in Chicago and New York: "Let's Play Postoffice", "The Hoola Boola Glide", "Never Mind the Family Tree, Look at the Business Tree", "My Sweet Cordelia", "You Can't Jolly Molly Any Moore", "Do It the Right Way" and "I'm Gettin' Kinda Lonesome for My Old Kentucky Pal."

✣ ✣ ✣

Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth are defying the summer's heat in Chicago. "Little Miss Fix It" is a big hit.

✣ ✣ ✣

Eddie Foy is to be featured in a few weeks in "A Man From Mexico", which is to be set to music.

✣ ✣ ✣

The National Opera Company lost $[illegible] in Paris this year. Better stick to this side of the pond next time.

✣ ✣ ✣

J. E. Dodson has a play in which he will star under the management of Cohan & Harris. It is called "Gambler's Bride" and is by J. Hartley Manners.

✣ ✣ ✣

MME. NAZIMOVA IS DISAPPOINTED.

Mme. Nazimova has had her first disappointment under the management of Charles Frohman in whose hands she placed her business affairs a short time ago.

This was in not being given, as she expected the highly successful London play, "Counsel for the Defense," as her medium for next season.

The Russian actress' fond expectation was blighted because Ethel Barrymore expressed a wish to appear in this drama.

Miss Barrymore usually gets from Mr. Frohman whatever she desires. So do Maude Adams, John Drew, Billie Burke and Marie Doro, a fact which Mme. Nazimova doubtless overlooked during the secretive negotiations culminating in her change of management.

It is quite likely that she will find that the five stars mentioned will have first call upon all the good things dispensed at the Frohman office and that she will have to be content with the leavings.

✣ ✣ ✣

Ten theatres closed their doors for the summer this week in New York.

✣ ✣ ✣

John Mason will close his extended engagement tonight in "As A Man Thinks." It was a great hit in New York and will be revived next fall.

NOTES OF THE STOCK COMPANY

Mrs. Arthur Berthelet will arrive in ten days from Black Rock, Ark. She will not be a member of the company this season. Mr. Berthelet is already house-hunting. He is looking for a desirable flat.

✣ ✣ ✣

"The Handicap," a corking good comedy with a race flavor, will be the bill next week. It will be a riot of fun from the time the barrier is snapped.

✣ ✣ ✣

Until he came here Harry Minturn was a member of the Colonial Stock Company in Columbus.

✣ ✣ ✣

"The Great Divide" may be put on by the Berthelet players. It is a great play and was used for three seasons by Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin.

✣ ✣ ✣

Two matinees will be given every week, Wednesday and Saturday. The scale of prices remain the same, 10, 20c and 30c.

✣ ✣ ✣

There will be a full scenic rehearsal of "Camille" at the Casino tonight, with Mr. Berthelet directing.

✣ ✣ ✣

"The City" may be put on later. It is the masterpiece of the late Clyde Fitch. Jack Herbert's company in Chicago closed with this piece two weeks ago.

FAMOUS GENTRY SHOW IS COMING

When the average American is seeking a place near the stove in winter the agents of the big tented shows are working industriously engaging acts for the season which comes with spring. This part of the amusement world is one with which the public is not familiar. A little look into that cranny proves interesting.

November marks the close of the season for tented attractions like Gentry Brothers All New Feature shows, which will visit this city next Tuesday. When the last wheel of the trains stops at winter quarters the organization of the show for the succeeding season begins.

Trainers get busy framing new features. A showman, whose judgment has been demonstrated, at once goes to Europe. He makes a careful canvas of the music halls and vaudeville theatres. For months he is acquainting himself with the novelties that are delighting audiences on the other side.

This season Gentry Brothers present in addition to their world's famous animal actors, a score of performers that are seen this season for the first time in America. Gentry Brothers All New Feature shows are indeed all new. If you see them here next Tuesday you will recognize them in name only. For this day only admission is reduced to 25 and 15 cents.

✣ ✣ ✣

The Sun theatre will open its fall season on Labor Day. Mr. Hilton will be returned by Gus Sun and it is said the bills will run all week. In this manner high class acts can be booked. An orchestra is to be a regular feature it is said.

✣ ✣ ✣

Henry B. Harris will launch Ruth St. Denis as a star in a play which is to be written for her by Richard Walton Tully, the author of "The Rose of the Rancho." Mr. Tully is at present on the Pacific Coast, where he is at work drafting a play, which is to be submitted to Mr. Harris and Miss St. Denis the latter part of July.

✣ ✣ ✣

The Chester Park Stock Company in Cincinnati will next week present "The Gay Musician." Sophie Brandt has been added to the cast.

✣ ✣ ✣

Ruth St. Denis is now dancing on the Hammerstein roof garden for $300 per year. Evidently needs the coin.

✣ ✣ ✣

Julian Eltinge is going to fill a short engagement in vaudeville in London this summer.

✣ ✣ ✣

It is said chorus girls in New York next season will draw from $30 to $40 per week. Good looking and shapely ones as well are mighty scarce.

✣ ✣ ✣

Charles Frohman is going to build two new theatres in New York. Next season the Metropolis will have over 80 strictly first class play houses.

✣ ✣ ✣

Fifty moving picture houses closed up shop in New York this week. They were engulfed by the warm wave.

When Terminals Are Annexed

When we are incorporated
We won't have to say
We are going to the city
For we'll be right in it don't you see.

John Gempp will ride to town
On a wagon load of hay
And pay his city taxes
"What! That much?" and other things he'll say.

The automobiles will reduce their speed
From fifty down to thirty
Then the populace can sit out front at eve's
For it won't be half so dusty.

Our happenings will be in the dailies
O! That will be a treat
And the column won't be headed Terminals
Like Sciotoville and only once a week.

The boys won't be taken before Judge Beatty
For invading Baglin's berry patch
But Mayor Searcy who will say four eighty
With a little cost attached.

That Wolfe at our door will stay away
Hurrah! Hurrah! For that
For we will not have to pay
That all fired road tax.

When we are incorporated
We won't have to guess at that
For we will know without a doubt
Who's our biggest Democrat.

Some will say restore the people's rights
If we would have the town to boom
And have installed in the Acme House
A great big fine saloon.

Others will say we don't want them
Not that way we'll steer
We have prospered here without them
We will try it three more years.

Closing hours we'll have for the Grocery houses
That will just suit John Chick
And if they have no opening hours
His place will be closed all week.

If the boys tear down Heaberlin's fence
And carry off his window screens
Right before Mayor Searcy they will go
He'll give them Hallow'een.

And we will have electric lights
They will attract the bugs and nats
So when we are sleeping with windows up
We won't have to scratch.

Jackson and Veneer will be up early
Tying up groceries with a vim
Willie will go out feed and curry
Harness and hitch up old Jim.

Gallia Pike will be paved
The street car in the center
And the people on the south side won't have
In their doors a pile of cross ties and cinder.

A Copper we will have of the regular type
A great big manly feller
And when he is wanted to quell a fight
He will hide in some one's cellar.

The fire engine, that wondrous water mill
We will station on Damrin's Hill
And when the alarm comes in for fire
Just turn on the main and let her fly.

Now to the city dommies we pray
If you would have us vote your way
Pour some oil on the pike today
To take that awful dust away.

INJUNCTION CASE HEARD

The famous injunction suit of Robert A. Mitchell vs the board of county commissioners resulting from the Chillicothe pike paving was given another whirl in common pleas court Saturday morning.

Evidence was submitted to the court, several witnesses testifying in an effort to establish the width of the old survey of the Portsmouth and Columbus turnpike, the records having been destroyed.

The county claims from 60 to 90 ft. while the petitioner contends that the right-of-way was never more than 30 feet as at present.

The court took the case under advisement and will probably hear arguments later.

Order Woodward To Come Monday

That the owners of the Portsmouth club intend to bolster up the playing strength of the Champs is shown by the fact that they sent a telegram to Outfielder Woodward of Atlanta, Ga., to report to the team at once. He wired back that he would be here Monday without fail, ready to take his place in the line-up. Woodward was secured by the Champs from the Jackson, Miss., team and according to First Baseman Edwards is one swell ball player. He is a left hand hitter and a sure enough coacher. Edwards said he was a regular clown on the base lines and that his actions would afford the fans all sorts of merriment.

TRANSCRIPT IN TEACHERS' CASE

The defendant allowed judgment to be taken by default in magistrate's court and is now appealing to the common pleas court.

Bouts was a teacher in the So. Webster school.

The Cost Of Living.

The real cost of living is not reckoned in dollars and cents—it's paid for in physical energy and the compensation is in physical and mental comfort. Many women do not enjoy life because they are overworked. Consequently, labor-saving devices are the most welcomed of all inventions. Prominent in this class is Hewitt's white Easy Task soap—for kitchen and laundry use. It does half the work itself, kills the germs, does not harm the hands or fabrics, and makes an easy task of household drudgery.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

CUT OFF THE GAS SUNDAY AT NOON

Do you use gas?

If so it is most important you should bear in mind that the supply will be cut off Sunday afternoon.

Owing to railroad operations up the river it has become necessary to change the supply lines and as it will inconvenience the public less to do this work on that day Sunday has been chosen. The supply will therefore be cut off from one o'clock to 6 o'clock in the afternoon of tomorrow.

As a precaution against accidents housekeepers and all others using gas should take pains to see all vents are securely cut off against the time the supply shall be turned on again.

The best way to do is to shut off the gas immediately after the mid-day meal as in later preparation to leave the house this is likely to be forgotten.

It is now thought the hotel will be ready for business by the middle of July.

A SYSTEM STIMULATOR

Putting Action into Victims of "That Tired Feeling."

One of the most remarkable discoveries of the last century is still viewed as a wonder. Thousands of people have used Dr. Wright's Rapid Relief for years. Rev. Ad. D. Singer, Methodist minister, of Rushtown, Scioto County, Ohio, writes that the remedy has been their household stand-by for over 25 years, and he cites cases of lives that have been saved by its application.

For wounds, cuts, throat diseases, neuralgia, nasal catarrh, stings and poisonous bites, burns, etc., Rapid Relief is of incomparable value.

This regular prescription of a famous physician was first marketed in [illegible]. It not only penetrates quickly into cells, nerves and blood vessels, but it stimulates them to act in their natural, normal, healthy way. If sluggish, Rapid Relief excites these important parts of physical machinery to speed up and do their full share of work in the economy of active, healthy life. The blood and nervous circulation reaches a perfect balance and congestion and inflammation are removed.

Rapid Relief should be in every modern medicine closet. In emergencies there is no remedy quite so far-reaching in its helpfulness to both man and beast. A trial bottle costs but 25 cents and the money will be returned if results are not satisfactory. Ask your dealer for this sterling remedy, or address the manufacturers direct—The Wright Rapid Relief Co., [illegible], Ohio.

They will send interesting booklets to any who will write for them.

Do Your Cooking in the Cool

A hot kitchen is little better than a prison in summer. But the range is there, so all the cooking and the washing must be done there, too.

What a relief it would be to move the range where you pleased. You can do this with a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove—cook your dinner out on the porch, if you like. It is the only range that is really portable—that works equally well in any place. There are no connections to be made, as in a gas range; no wiring, as with an electric stove; no sooty flues and ash-filled grates, as with coal or wood.

The long, enameled chimneys carry the heat directly up to saucepans, oven or boiler; you get full value from your fuel, without waste.

New Perfection WICK BLUE FLAME Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise-blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Mr. Wishon was awakened when the stranger attempted to take the screen out of the window. He is satisfied that there would have been serious trouble if the fellow had gained admittance to his home. He says he would have received a warm reception.

NEW COMPANY TO BEAR NAME OF MR. STRAUS

The Goodman-Straus Company, which operates The Salvage store here and the big Red Trunk Store in Hamilton, O., is to be reincorporated in a few days under the name of the Simon Straus Company. The capital stock will be $100,000 and most of the stock has been issued.

The company will increase its business here and in Hamilton and this is the chief reason of the re-incorporation. The Hamilton store is a hummer and last year it did almost $150,000 worth of business. The Salvage store here is one of the most successful in the city. Mr. Straus will go to Hamilton next week when the details of the new deal will be put through. It is quite a compliment to his hustling methods to have the new firm incorporated under his name. It is a fitting tribute to his splendid business sagacity.

OTHERS SAW THAT AIR CRAFT

John Delabar, one of the mail carriers, informed the Times office today that the campers, of whom he was one, saw the balloon or airship, that passed over Portsmouth Wednesday night. Mr. Delabar was at Rushtown and saw the balloon which he watched from 9:15 to 9:30, and which was going due west as though it might be headed for Cincinnati.

Mr. Delabar said he was not sure what it was until he saw the item in the Times Thursday night, and he then felt satisfied that he had seen the same balloon that the Knowles family had seen.

NATHAN HAD A SCARE

Portsmouth seems to have been visited by balloons and airships during the past week. Nathaniel Bank, janitor at the H. S. Grimes brokerage office, is the latest to have both seen and heard an airship as it passed over the city.

Nathaniel says he was awakened this morning about 2 o'clock by his wife, who said that she heard a strange noise about the house.

He went out into the yard and the noise he heard gave him a big fright. Fearing that the world was coming to an end, he started to get the others of the family out to safety, but about that time he remembered having heard something about airships and he felt satisfied that he was hearing and seeing "one of them things."

Nathaniel says the noise that it made was enough "to scare a black man white."

The arrests followed.

A drunken stone cutter flourishing a quart bottle of whiskey and dangerous looking dagger created excitement at Second and Washington streets Saturday afternoon. Friends spirited him away before the arrival of police.

TWO HURT IN WRECK OF 2 FREIGHT TRAINS, TEN CARS PILED UP

Harry O. Brown, aged 28, a fireman, of Handen, was badly hurt. Engineer John Davison slightly injured about the right arm and several others had close calls in a serious head-on collision between an N. & W. freight train and a B. & O. S. W. switch engine at Star Yards Saturday morning.

Seven N. & W. loaded coal cars and three B. & O. S. W. cars filled with brick were piled up or ditched and both engines totally demolished in the wreck which occurred exactly at 9:55 a. m. at the upper end of the Harbison-Walker brick plant. Coal was strewn all over the vicinity and will be sold to the brick company.

Brown received a serious scalp wound, a bad cut back of the ear, and suffered a fracture of the hip. Fuller's ambulance removed him to Hempstead hospital where at last accounts he was resting nicely.

B. & O. S. W. switch engine 249 was backing out of the brick yards over what is known as the brick track with three cars of brick. The engine was headed west. Switchman Walter Kirkendall was standing on the pilot when he saw the N. & W. train bearing down upon them. He shouted warning, then jumped. The next instant the N. & W. train had crashed into the tank of the B. & O. S. W. engine, coupling with it and tearing it from the engine. This fact alone perhaps saved Engineer Davison and Fireman Brown from being crushed to death.

Brown was found lying unconscious besides the wrecked engine while Davison had difficulty crawling out of the pile of debris. The force of the impact was so great that the number plate of the engine was imbedded in front of the first box car. The three loaded brick cars were forced down the track a distance of about 80 yards and one rested on the edge of the river bank with the trucks thrown under the center of the car.

One of the coal cars came dangerously near going through one of the brick company's houses occupied by a laborer's family.

The B. & O. S. W. crew claim that both block signals were against the N. & W. crew composed of Engineer George Raines, Fireman W. Wright, Conductor A. Diltz and Brakeman H. P. Purdue. Yardmaster Frank Cramer was just preparing to board the cut of cars when the sound of the N. & W. engine exhausting told him what was coming. Switchman George Blake jumped from the top of one of the brick cars and escaped unharmed.

The N. & W. crew claim that the switch at that point was open and that the distance signal failed to work. This feature will be rigidly investigated to determine the cause of the smashup. The big N. & W. engine turned over and all drivers were derailed.

The N. & W wreck train had the tracks cleared at 11:40 a. m.

Fireman Brown had just went on duty here Saturday morning relieving Charles Coey, a crippled fireman, who went to Columbus for a several days' visit. He is married and has one child, a one month old baby.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, June 17.—Markets on both corn and wheat for the past week have been of a scalping character. Fluctuations have been active but small, and the closing prices to-day are two and a half cents lower on wheat, and one-half cent lower on corn than they were at the close of last week.

Heavy rains all through the corn growing states have added very materially to the outlook of this crop, and also had the same effect upon oats. In localities where they did not anticipate over one-third of a crop of oats, since the rains, they have reasonable assurance of almost a full crop.

Wheat has already made itself, and the rains did not add to nor detract from the prospect of one of the largest wheat crops ever grown. The closing of this week certainly looks brighter for cereals than has been the case for many weeks.

OPENING

Chicago June 17.—Wheat, July 87¼ to 87⅛; Sept., 87¾ to 87; Dec., 89⅝ to 89½.

Corn, July, 54½ to 54¼; Sept., 56 to 55¾; Dec., 54½ to 54¼.

Oats, July, 38 to 37⅞; Sept., 39 to 38⅞; Dec., 40⅛ to 40.

CLOSE

Chicago June 17.—Wheat, July 86⅝; Sept., 86½; Dec., 89⅛.

Sheep and lambs, receipts light, market active.

Hogs, receipts 15 double deck, heavy, $6.40 to $6.45; mixed, $6.40 to $6.45; medium, $6.40 to $6.45; yorkers, $6.40 to $6.45; pigs, $6.25 to $6.30.

(By Associated Press.)

New York June 17.—Alternate periods of strength and weakness none of which was sufficiently pronounced to lend broad impulse to trade or lead to material changes in price levels, marked the week on the stock exchange. The market fell into a waiting attitude pending the receipt of more information in regard to trade conditions and crop prospects. Liquidation of stock which had been accumulated during the recent rise tended to prevent a further substantial advance.

Reports of damage to crops by drought caused uneasiness although this was relieved somewhat toward the end of the week by rains in several sections. Suspension of dividends on Denver and Rio Grande preferred, depressed that stock, but was without effect elsewhere, since it was regarded as in line with the past conservative policy of the Gould system and its new banking associates. Indications of better conditions in both the steel and copper trades exerted a favorable influence upon speculative sentiment as did the May statistics of foreign trade, revealing the largest exports for that month on record and a balance of trade in favor of this country for eleven months of more than five hundred million dollars.

Woman Hit By C. & O. Train

Mrs. William Timberlake, of Greenup, was struck by a C. & O. freight train Friday afternoon and was painfully bruised.

Every Month Near Death.

Foster, Ark.—Mrs. Fannie Ellis, of Foster, says: "I was sick for seven years, and half the time could not stand on my feet. Every month I was very near death. I tried Cardui, and in two months I was cured, and am now stout and healthy. My friends all ask me now what cured me. My looks are a testimonial to Cardui." A DISTANT PROSPECT.

A southern paper is troubled still over our benevolent assimilation of the Philippines. It can see no good that has come from this radical departure from the teachings of the fathers, but some of evil. It has cost a large number of American lives and a treasure of good American dollars, without visible recompense, either past, present or prospective.

In this gloomy opinion it overlooks some phases of the situation so dear and blessed to some. Colonization has given us glory along with the effete monarchies of Europe and it has opened frank fields for the exploitation of American trusts and monopolies. What more could be expected or desired in such enterprise it is hard to expect.

Let visionaries and philanthropists speculate upon the ethical and ethereal opportunities the bigger guns have opened to this apostolic land.

But their vagaries are as unsubstantial and fragmentary as the dream of our Dixie contemporary, that the government may yet utilize the distant isles by sending all the "nigger" troops over there and eventually colonize all the black population upon them. The first is possible, but not probable, the last is neither probable, nor possible.

May be some day the Philippines may be set free, they will never be colonized from this country either voluntarily or forcibly.

THE MEASURE TAKEN.

We have often speculated upon that word bitterly, which is about as common in news columns as its side partner fiercely, and wondered what its real measure was.

At last it has been standardized so that a reasonable estimate of its dimensions can be taken.

It came about in this way. It was reported 35,000 farmers in Wisconsin were bitterly opposed to the Canadian agreement and would send representatives to Washington to protest against it. This they actually did and on the hat being passed around the 35,000 bitterly opposed, to pay the expenses of the representatives, just exactly $300 were contributed. Take out your pencil and figure it and you will find the bitterly equitable distributed means a fraction over 8-10 of a cent to each individual. Carrying this out still further it will be found the Wisconsin granger figures out a moderate dose of free trade just across the lake will hurt less than a quarters' worth for a whole life time.

What's the use of "fursing" about a trifle like that. Let congress close the debate and approve the treaty instanter. To debate it for two months as is proposed will cost the United States more than the adoption of the treaty for a thousand years, eliminating all possible benefits.

GIVE HIM CREDIT.

There has been much criticism of Roosevelt for having, as president, consented to the absorption of the Tennessee Iron and Coal company by the Steel Trust.

From the testimony of President Gary, of the Steel Trust, it would appear Roosevelt is to be commended for that action, rather than condemned.

It may be said, that as head of the big monopoly Gary is trying to put the best front possible on the deal, but that would appear to be doing both him and the ex-president injustice. Gary impresses one as speaking the candid truth, concealing nothing that might be hurtful to his company and extenuating nothing for its benefit.

It will not harmonize with pre-conceived opinion, nor be gracious to public prejudice to say the Steel Trust, when it took over the Tennessee corporation, it did this, not to aggrandize itself, but with the sole view of saving the financial situation.

While this may not be palatable to that sentiment, which can see no good watsoever in a monopoly, it may go down a trifle easier, with the information, that some smooth gentlemen appear to have "conned" the steel magnates into the deal by arousing fears of an impending situation, which was not at all likely to have occurred.

But be that as it may, it is clear enough Roosevelt was entirely justified in the approval he gave to the absorption.

THE LITTLE WANTS.

For the first time in its existence The Times carried a full hundred advertisements in its want columns, Saturday.

Hundreds are carried through the week, but Saturday was the first single issue in which they ever attained the century mark.

That number is a fine testimonial to the efficacy of these little advertisements, but that efficacy is such, especially as compared with the cost, that there ought to be twice as many every issue.

In no other line of business is so much value offered for little money. And to prove by fact rather than enforce with assertion, let an instance be quoted. George Keller of West Ninth spent 34 cents in the want column for advertising tomato plants for sale. One might assume that in a city the size of Portsmouth, there would be scant demands for such plants. Yet Mr. Keller sold his entire setting in a few days, the total amount of his sales footing up over $15. He would have sold twice as many had he had the stock.

That is only one instance, others equally as surprising could be given. But test is the best proof. It will cost only half a cent a word each insertion, though no advertisement will be taken for less than ten cents.

If you [illegible] to buy anything, have a house or [illegible] for rent, [illegible] want column [illegible] try it. [illegible] of the [illegible].

NONE AT ALL.

The Huntington Advertiser wants to know what is the [illegible] of congress [illegible] admission of Arizona as a state.

There is none at all. The [illegible] of the senate [illegible] majority of votes [illegible] from [illegible] Arizona admitted.

Ostensibly objection to admission of the territory is [illegible] on the fact that [illegible] state, it has adopted a constitution providing for the recall of judges. In fact there is nothing substantial in [illegible]. The utmost it will accomplish is the temporary [illegible] constitution. For congress can impose [illegible] territory conditional on its admission as a state [illegible] to observe after it is once admitted. Each state is equally independent and sovereign with all the others, within the limits of the national constitution and congress can not in anywise change that condition by its own statutory action. This was very recently determined in the case of Oklahoma. When this state was admitted congress attempted to fix the condition, that the state capitol should remain at Gutherie for a given number of years and should not be transferred before the year 1913, we believe it was. Scarce, however, had the new state got its own machinery into running order than an election was called to change the location of the capital. Of course, those opposed to removal set forth the unconstitutionality and bad faith of the proposition. Nevertheless, a big majority voted removal to Oklahoma. Law suits innumerable followed and for a time it was uncertain whether the governor, who is from Ohio would call out the militia to eliminate the judges, or the judges would send him to jail for the period of his natural life and a day. Eventually the matter got into the supreme court of the United States and that tribunal has just decided the election was legal and the capital shall be located in Oklahoma City, sustaining the contention that congress had no authority to bind Oklahoma to any certain course of action, after she once became a state.

SOMETHING NEAR EQUAL.

Ohio ranks as one of the foremost manufacturing states of the union; Ohio does not rank so high up either for the quantity, or variety of her agricultural production.

The first is not because she possesses distinct advantages in the development of the [illegible] industry; the second is not because she is at any particular disadvantage in soil or climate.

Every state in some respect is superior, or inferior to another. On the whole Ohio is [illegible] an average state. In those directions in which she has attained eminence it is because her people have devoted their energies and talents fully thereto; where she has lagged behind it is because she has used neither to the highest results.

While she is far, far indeed, from fame as a farming state it does not follow she is [illegible] out in that line, or has reached the limit nature has set for her. In the production of wheat and corn she is a [illegible] in the market, but in general development agriculturally she has not reached that estate she is capable of. In vegetables and [illegible] especially small and large fruits, she ought to be at the [illegible]. Her climate is suitable, her lands are most adaptable and her markets are unrivaled. AN EXAGGERATION

Some papers that are poor at figures and scant in knowledge are estimating the cost of the Chinese governmental decree ordering all male natives to have their hair cut will cost the Flowery kingdom four hundred million dollars.

That is all wrong, all the way through. China has at the outside limit no more than two hundred and fifty million population. Assuming half are males and allowing for babies in arms, who are not affected by the decree, there would not be as many as an even hundred million left to be shorn of their locks, Hyperion or otherwise. Saying the charge for the cut would be the Portsmouth rate of 35 cents for a pompadour we would have the total cost less than four millions.

Then there is the other side of it, the sale of the hair. America furnishes a steady market for rats, puffs and other contraptions manufactured from the tresses of dead Chinamen, which our women use to build up their own fearful and wonderfully compounded headgear, and the product from the live animal ought to command a better price. It looks as though the heathen Chinese instead of standing to lose, had concocted a smooth get-rich-quick scheme to palm off on the christian.

There is trouble ahead for the majority of Huntington automobilists. The city levies a tax on cars the payment of which seems far more honored in the breach than in the observance and scores of delinquents have been summoned before the police magistrate.

The senate has passed the measure providing for the popular election of United States senators. After the house approves the amendments, should it, the measure will then go to the states for ratification. Thus do the mills of the law slowly grind.

Professor Irl Hicks says this is going to be a dry year. No reference meant, however, to local option elections. The St. Louis prophet says that along in the fall farmers will be giving their stock away to keep it from dying of thirst.

China is waking up. She is the first to present damage claims to Mexico for her citizens killed in the insurrection.

THANKS TO BOTH.

Governor Harmon vetoed the salary grab in their own behalf by the legislators and they with gleeful promptness passed it over his head.

That ended the matter in so far as he could influence it officially, but the attention of Attorney General Hogan was called to the grab by the episode and he instructed the auditor of state to hold up all vouchers for legislative salaries until he could look into the law of the case.

For this the state is under obligation to both the Governor and the Attorney General. Their action means money saved for the people. How just and timely it was is shown in the confession of Representative Owen J. Evans, that he is guilty of accepting a bribe. That plea automatically removes him from office and, of course, cancels the obligation of the state to pay him a salary. Had his salary for the next year, been paid, however, it would have been lost to the state treasury. And that is not all. If we take Evans's plea as in all respects true there are a number of other legislators guilty of bribery and if they plead guilty or be convicted their offices and salaries will be forfeited also.

After all though, the evil in the salary grab is not so much that it filches from the state indirectly a few thousand dollars as the scandalous attempt at nullification of the law for their personal benefit by the men elected to make laws, assumably to be obeyed.

If they, whose business it is to write the laws, show no respect for them, how can they expect others to observe them? Possibly, in their greed they gave no heed to this phase of their action, but it is one that should have been all potent with them.

ASHAMED OF HOME.

Several of our bright boys went up to Ironton, the other day to visit with friends. In the course of sight seeing their hosts carried them over to Lawrence county's handsome court house. There the brave lads, who had gone away from home possessed of the idea that Portsmouth was the finest place on earth, were made ashamed to say they were from Scioto county. Nothing would rise up before their vision, except that decrepit old shack, at the corner of Sixth and Court, that the commissioners are now patching up. They could not understand why, if Portsmouth was such a great place it did not have a better court house than Ironton.

That is not the worst of it. They will grow gray, according to all indications, before they will see a better one at home for the county and not the city builds the court house.

The Gallipolis Tribune says you can always get at whether a man is working for himself or another by asking him his opinion about the frequency of holidays. That wont work with Portsmouth grocers. They have been working quite diligently to secure themselves a score of half holidays.

Columbus does not appear to find passing the hat around a highly profitable business. So far the children of the state have given only a trifle over $1,100 for the erection of a monument to Christopher Columbus at the state capital.

Good roads—we must have 'em. The automobilists have unanimously so resolved. If they can afford them for the fun of [illegible] the farmer certainly can for the profit they will be to him.

A Cincinnati boy got $15 for his ear, which was chewed off by a horse, while he was trying to get the horse's score. Not much for the appendage, but [illegible] what the horse was doing.

That's [illegible] way of doing things over in Germany. With [illegible] fuss or fury Mormon meetings were broken up and the missionaries driven out of the country.

In New Hampshire a red automobile and a red bull met on the [illegible] highway. For once the [illegible] wagon had to take second money.

State House Talk

Columbus, Ohio, June 17—State Dairy and Food Commissioner S. E. Strode has hit upon a plan which he thinks will prove very effective in bringing about proper sanitary conditions at canning factories. He intends to grade these factories and publish the score of each. The factories found to be clean and wholesome will be classified in the first grade and those found in poor condition will be placed in a low grade. The results will be published and the people will know whether or not the product of the factory is made amid sanitary conditions. The information regarding these factories will be obtained by inspectors of the department. Commissioner Strode points out that if each canner arranges his plant and maintains it in proper sanitary order, the canning industry will be raised to a higher standard and a greater consumption of canned goods will follow. The commissioner has also adopted the rule that all milk and cream dealers and their customers must cleanse all cans or other receptacles used in shipping milk and cream, as soon as they are empty, who the same are returned by railroad, trolley or boat. The purpose of this is to prevent the development of ptomaine through the medium of unclean cans. The commissioner is also serving notice of his intention to enforce the law prohibiting one dealer or firm from using milk bottles belonging to others, and on which the name of the owner appears.

John Moore, the new president of the Ohio miners, is a Scotchman. He was born in Ayrshire, the home of Bobby Burns. He came to this country when but a small boy, with his parents, locating at Rendville, Perry county, where his father worked as a miner. He was elected vice president of the miners a year ago last December, and was re-elected and served about six months of his second term, when he was advanced to the presidency, succeeding Dennis H. Sullivan, resigned. Mr. Moore is exceedingly popular, both among the miners and in his home town. He has served his fellow citizens at home several times as their mayor. He is a believer in large families and has six children. Their ages range from 2 to 16 years. He is an active fraternity man and belongs to the Masons, Knights of Pythias, Red Men and Elks. Mr. Moore is a good public speaker and has been successful in settling disputes of the miners. He is also a baseball fan.

George S. Long, secretary to the governor, will attend the commencement of Dartmouth College, June 28th to witness the graduation of his son, Frederick W. Long, from that institution. Secretary Long was graduated from that college in 1879. A special feature of the commencement will be the 50th anniversary celebration of the graduation from that institution of Dr. Wm. J. Tucker, a former Ohio man, who was president of the college, from 1893 to 1898. During his administration the membership of the college tripled.

The Columbus Centennial Commission, which has been allowed an appropriation of $25,000, is scheduled to meet today to outline plans for a program for the celebration which is to be held next year. The intention is to hold the celebration in connection with the Ohio State Fair. Just what form it will assume has not yet been determined.

The new employers' liability law, signed by the governor on Thursday, takes effect in January, 1912. It creates a commission of three which will pay out from a fund to be raised largely from employers, claims for personal injuries from employees. The maximum amount that may be allowed for death or total disability is $3400.

Montella Watha, the first Newark rioter convicted, and who was given a twenty-year sentence in the penitentiary for manslaughter, is making a fight for his liberty. His attorneys have applied to the supreme court for permission to file a petition in error in that court to set aside the conviction. This is the first [illegible] ing case to be carried up to the Supreme Court.

As soon as he can arrange his affairs, Governor Harmon will take a much needed vacation. He did not have any last year and feels that he is entitled to one now. He expects to go to Charlevoix, Michigan, where he has a summer home. The street car strike last year knocked him out of his vacation.
